DEBT PLAN IN EFFECT

FEAR ACTRESS BEING HELD FOR RANSOM

Evelyn Wilson (above), beautiful 24-year-old actress, is believed by her mother and sister to be the victim of kidnapers, who may be holding her for ransom. Miss Wilson's mysterious disappearance from a birthday party for her sister in New York has police baffled. The actress is said to have complained recently of several "tough men" following her when she was carrying a considerable sum of money.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Arnold Krause of East Brook landed a huge carp from French creek the other day. He was fishing near Cochranton.

Joe Rickle, McCleary avenue, is a well-known marksman, but yesterday he decided to apply his skill to better advantage. Pa Newc is told that he spied several rats on a cottage nearby, secured his rifle and fired. Each shot was perfect and did what he intended it to do, so it's told.

Some commendable work has been done recently by owners of vacant lots in the Highland avenue district in having the weeds cut down. There are a lot of places where this example could be followed, and there are a large number of streets where weeds along the sidewalks should be mowed down. Why not an organized weed cutting campaign?

Strawberries are about through for the season, and black rasberries are now on the market in large quantities.

Whether signs mean what they say or whether you have to interpret the thoughts of the person making them is something of a problem. In driving down Liberty street in Mahoningtown the other evening Pa Newc saw a beautiful flower garden and over it was a sign which read "$25 reward for any one molesting these flowers" and Pa Newc was undecided whether to go up and gather a few and then collect $25 or whether to gather them and then pay $25. Figure it out for yourself.

Mrs. A. R. Kerr, North Beaver street, told Pa Newc this morning that he did not need to go out the Pulaski road to see corn in tassle, but if he would come up to the corner of Beaver and Grant streets he would see plenty of it. Also in the Kerr garden are new beets and green beans ready for use. This garden, which is a wonderful one, is worked entirely by A. R. Kerr, a veteran of the Civil war, who is now 84 years old.

Beat this one if you can! Upon reading in The News of a year old child who can whistle, Mrs. Hannah Simonton, of R. F. D. 2 called into Pa Newc this morning to tell him that her eleven months old son Earl LeRoy has been whistling since he was ten months old, and quite loud at that.

It is evident that the sane operation of automobiles over the week-end in this vicinity had its desired result. Only a few accidents were reported which causes gratification here. State highway patrolmen rode all the state improved highways.

County To Receive $34,720 For Mother's Assistance Fund

The Mothers' Assistance Fund board of Lawrence county, of which Miss Emma Dodds of New Wilmington is president and Mrs. Charles H. Young of East Wallace avenue is secretary, will have their annual meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. H. Young.

It is with gratification that the Lawrence county board received the announcement that they will have an apportionment of $34,720 for the 1931-33 biennium, which is more than double what they received the past two years; they having had $15,000 to cover this county for that period.

Lawrence county has now 50 families on the list and expects to have close to 100 families before the next two years have elapsed and the increased amount can be used most advantageously in this work.

Miss Charlotte Parrish of Harrisburg, assistant supervisor of Pennsylvania, will be in attendance at the Wednesday meeting, which will be held during the afternoon and concluded with a tureen dinner at 6 o'clock.

Germany Expresses Gratitude To Hoover And American Nation

Official Government Proclamation Is Issued At Berlin Today

Germany Pledges Use Of All Funds For Economic Recovery

By WALTER DIETZEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, July 7—Gratitude to President Hoover for assistance to Germany in her "hour of greatest economic danger," was expressed today in an official proclamation announcing the accord reached in Washington and Paris on the Hoover debt moratorium proposal.

At the same time the German government pledged itself to the world to utilize the funds released through the suspension of debt payments to rehabilitate German industry, rather than for government expenditures of any nature.

Answer to France.

This was an indirect answer to the French demand that Germany should not be permitted ot use any of the money released by debt suspension for increasing her land or sea armaments.

"President Hoover's broad-minded and magnanimous initiative has been crowned with success," the proclamation said. "It comes as a spiritual relief to Germany and opens the road to economic recovery and re-

Get No Trace Of Missing Actress

Police Of New York Make No Headway In Solution Of Mystery

FRIENDS INSIST SHE IS KIDNAPED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 7.—After hours of search, police today had failed to locate the missing actress, Evelyn Wilson, or discover how she dropped from sight. The 23-year-old stage beauty disappeared early Sunday. Friends said she had been kidnaped and was being held for ransom.

Police said that the actress might have disappeared voluntarily as the result of the recent breaking of her engagement to marry Joseph Sheeran, a New York business man.

Excited Buying Of London Stocks

Enthusiasm Over Hoover Moratorium Agreement Shown In London

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, July 7.—Excited buying of stocks expressed the London stock market's enthusiasm for the Hoover moratorium today. Prices opened higher and continued to mount, the American section being especially active on the upside.

International Nickel shares were in demand, while oils, mines and German bonds gained substantially.

The consensus of the city, or London's financial district, on the Hoover plan was expressed by Lord Melchett, son of the famous chemical magnate who died recently, as follows:

"The settlement in Paris has lifted the unreasoning psychological gloom overshadowing the world. It will revitalize Europe and will create a minor gold boom through the cessation of the drift of industrial profits from Europe to the United States."

Syling Returns From 7000 Mile Automobile Trip

Made The Journey To Los Angeles And Back With Same Air In Front Tires

VISITED NUMEROUS POINTS OF INTEREST

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, wife and daughter Norma, and Eva Houk, have returned from an automobile trip to the Pacific coast, during which they traveled over 7000 miles. Mr. Syling made the trip without accident of any kind, and with the same air in the front tires as when he started. His longest day's drive was 465 miles across the desert. This drive was made from 4 o'clock in the morning to midnight.

During his trip across the desert Mr. Syling said that the road was straight as a line, with practically no traffic. His average driving was around 300 miles per day. Considerable bad road was encountered owing to the fact that the western states and the government have large gangs of men at work in their efforts to relieve the unemployment situation.

Mr. Syling and family left New Castle on June 11. They went by way of Denver, Col., and Colorado Springs. From Manitou, near Colorado Springs, they motored to the summit of Pikes Peak. From Colorado, the trip led through Salt Lake City to Los Angeles, Cal. At Los Angeles, Mr. Syling attended the national educational meeting.

Leaving Los Angeles the route led to San Francisco and the Sequoia national forest, where a day was spent among the famous giant redwood trees of California. From the forest the trip led to New Mexico and then up through the Yellowstone park.

In California, Mr. Syling found fruit abundant and cheap.

Coal Operators' Replies Awaited On Conference

Tentative Meeting Is Scheduled For July 9 At Washington

OHIO MINERS ARE PLANNING MEETING

Striking Miners Strengthen Picket Lines In Pittsburgh Area

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont today awaited the bulk of replies to invitations mailed last Saturday to bituminous coal operators to participate in an informal conference here on July 9. It was reported here that only a half dozen replies had been received up to last night.

Should the expected response be forthcoming from operators today, it was believed a definite announcement would be made on the date for the conference, now tentatively scheduled for Thursday, and of the problems to be discussed at the meeting.

Following a brief conference of Secretary Lamont with department attaches it was announced that no decision has yet been reached as to the procedure of the meeting. Reports that the national miners union planned to picket the conference drew no comment from department officials.

Threaten Bigger Meeting

St. Clairsville, O., July 7.—A threat of a larger mass meeting existed today, according to national miners union officials, following the flat rejection of Belmont county commissioners of the demands presented by 1,500 striking eastern Ohio miners after they had conducted a "hunger march" to the courthouse.

Paul Bohus, one of the committee of 10 that went before the commissioners with the seven demands, announced that the action of the board would spur on a more imposing meeting later.

The march was to have been represented by about 7,500 miners, but only about 1,500 appeared in line. Rejection of the demands of the miners was almost instantaneous upon their presentation.

Strengthen Picket Lines

Pittsburgh, July 7.—Striking miners strengthened their picket lines today with the receipt of reports that several mines in the Pittsburgh area were attempting to resume operations with non-union workmen.

More than 200 pickets assumed guard at the Versailles township mine of the McKeesport Coal and Coke Company following reports last night that 200 non-union men were to be given work in the mine. This morning a skeleton force of 50 pickets stood guard at the mine entrance and the strikebreakers had not yet appeared.

Leaders said their pickets and

Fear Beer Barons War In New York

Police Fear Killing Of Charles Entratta May Result In War

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 7.—An outbreak of a new war between beer barons was feared by police today as the aftermath of the killing of Charles Entratta. Three men, who entered the office of a bottle company and shot Entratta without warning from behind, may have been agents of the Al Capone gang in Chicago, police said.

Authorities leaned to the theory that Entratta's death was linked to efforts of Chicago beer sellers to "muscle in" on the business of Brooklyn beer runners.

Machine Falls On Aged Mercer County Farmer

SHARON, Pa., July 7.—John A. McCallen, 82-year old Civil War Veteran, was crushed to death today on the Mercer road near here when an automobile driven by Paul B. Thompson, of Mercer, toppled over upon him from an embankment.

Thompson, according to police, had driven onto the embankment in an attempt to avoid striking a moving machine which the aged man was operating.

Believe Hoover Plan Saves Central Europe

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 7.—Official London today breathed a sigh of relief that the Franco-America negotiations in Paris had finally come to a successful end.

In welcoming the accord on the Hoover plan for a year's suspension of war debts, London newspapers said that it had come none too soon to prevent an economic breakdown in central Europe.

Some newspapers bitterly criticized France for having held up the Hoover plan so long.

BERLIN, July 7.—An immense weight was lifted from the shoulders of German government officials by the signing of the Paris accord putting the Hoover moratorium into effect as of July 1.

It was felt here that Germany had narrowly escaped revolution and chaos.

Preparing To Force Fall To Serve His Term

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—U. S. District Attorney Leo A. Rover said today he will appear before Justice Jennings Bailey in District of Columbia Supreme Court Thursday morning and ask that Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, be removed from El Paso, Tex., to a district prison and start serving his one year sentence and pay $100,000 fine—the sentence imposed upon him more than two years ago for accepting $100,000 as a bribe from E. L. Doheny, California oil man.

Rover and Atlee Pomerene, special government prosecutor, have examined a report on Fall's physical condition made by army physicians in El Paso and believe he is physically able to come here. Before this examination Fall was scrutinized by private physicians who reported his condition would not endure the long journey.

Trading Booms On Berlin Bourse

Agreement On Moratorium Brings New Life To German Trading

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 7.—Prices and trading on the Berlin bourse boomed today in response to the cheerful news that an agreement had been reached between France and America with regard to the debt moratorium.

Shares of the heavy industries soared from five to 10 points, despite the fact that call money remained scarce and commanded all the way from 8½ to 10 per cent.

German bankers claimed a long term loan must be obtained to ease the shortage of money caused by the recent sensational withdrawals from the Reichsbank. They believed, however, that the run on the Reichsbank would cease as a result of the moratorium accord.

HOOVER'S WAR DEBT PROPOSAL IN EFFECT; ACCEPTED BY FRANCE

Year's Moratorium From Intergovernmental Debts Will Benefit World

French Acceptance Comes After Two Weeks Of Negotiating

By PIERCE MILLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Hoover's project for one year's freedom from the world debt spectre, was today in effect to all intents and purposes as of July 1, as originally proposed.

Feel Benefit Already

The purpose behind the President's offer to suspend all war debts for a year on conditions that the other principle powers do likewise regarding German reparations, made two weeks ago last Saturday, has been accomplished. Already the pschological effect was achieved when the proposal was made. There were some minor depressions during the critical negotiations with the French, but with last night's momentous announcement that an accord had been reached, there was an immediate rebound.

This government is now out of the picture, according to an official high in the administration. Full fruition of the plan is now up to the Treasury experts of the various signatories of the Young plan, who will be charged with ironing out conflicts between that instrument and the year's suspension program.

Of course always in the background are the parliaments of the nations involved. In some quarters it is felt they are very much in the picture. But in most there appears to be no apprehension on this score.

Some Concessions

The accord reached by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Ambassador Edge with Premier Laval, which the President accepted late yesterday, represents some concessions both by the French and this government. None made by the United States, however, departed from the original principle laid down by the President that the holiday must be complete, and that no nation should benefit at the expense of another.

The French maintain the sanctity of the Young plan for the sake of which they insisted that the German unpostponable reparations payments be continued.

This government obtained from the French, however, a concession whereby Germany would borrow back from the Bank of International Settlements the $131,000,000 she would thus pay in during the holiday.

In the same way, an obstacle involving the payments in kind, the contracts for which France insisted could be maintained, was removed.

Windows Of New Epworth Church Cause Comment

Beautiful Stained Glass Art-Work Enhances Beauty Of Interior

ARE FASHIONED OF IMPORTED GLASS

Among the many fine appointments at the new Epworth M. E. church at East Washington street and Butler avenue, are the stained glass windows, which have caused much favorable comment with their beauty, harmony, and richness in color.

The windows are made of imported antique glass and add more perhaps to the beauty of the interior than any other feature in this wonderful new house of worship.

Each window has three panels, and each panel depicts a Biblical symbol. The central figure in the large Chancel window is that of the living Word, Jesus, the Risen Lord. On his right is the figure of Moses, holding the two tablets of the Law, representing the Old Testament. All of the nave windows on that side of the church have Old Testament figures.

On the left of the central figure in the Chancel window is that of Saint Paul, holding in his hand the "Sword of the Spirit," which is the word of God. He represents the New Testament, and all the symbols in the Nave windows on that side of the church are taken from the New Testament.

The windows thus have a harmony in meaning as well as in color.

Falls Off Bike Fractures Arm

Jane Jackamo, daughter of Jesse Jackamo, Garfield avenue, was riding her bicycle near her home Monday evening when she struck a stone and was thrown from the wheel.

She was taken to the Jameson Memorial Hospital about 8:15 p. m. and upon examination it was found she had fractured her right arm. She will be in the hospital for some time.

The record achieved here is one worthwhile, Pa Newc believes.

The declaration of a city councilman that the city should have a school of instruction for police and firemen apparently will strike favor with the people at large. Such a school would work good for the city employes and citizens. Many employes themselves, it is believed, would favor such a school.

Tents are arising like mounds along the various creeks of the county and the camp season is on in full blast. As a result many of the farmers living in the vicinity are enjoying egg, butter and milk customers. Torrid heat of the past week has driven city folk to tent life.

Cascade park springs are most popular these days and it is nothing unusual to see persons with glass jugs awaiting their turn to secure water at the spring. In some instances persons have driven here from distance places to secure a supply of the water.

Pulaski has one of the nicest tennis courts in this section and each afternoon and evening it is crowded with players. The courts in this city are also crowded. The municipal courts are at George Washington Junior high school and Boyles field.

The entrances to the municipal golf course have been improved and the bronze plate presented by the Johnson Bronze company through President P. J. Flaherty is to be erected today. There civilian committee has done much to popularize golf here and are continuing their efforts to increase interest.

There must have been a fairly good storm in the Pymatuning region over the week end as the Shenango river rose two-tenths of a foot since yesterday.

Incidentally, the Shenango is at a lower stage at the water plant this year, due to the washing out of the dam the boys made in the river for a swimming pool last summer.

North Hill residents are watching proceedings at City hall with more than usual interest these days, to see what disposition is to be made of the plan for replacing the old fire truck at Park avenue with a modern fast machine, as announced to be council's intention some months ago. Councilmen have been on numerous trips inspecting fire apparatus, and bids have been taken on the engine, but for some reason no action has resulted. In the meantime a large area of the north hill residential section is being left without adequate fire protection, which is council's responsibility.

Manager Carl Shaner of Cascade Park believes the crowd of Fourth of July was the biggest in recent years and he reports that with the torrid heat the crowds have perked up at the local recreation ground where there are shady nooks, a good bathing pool and good drinking water.

A lover of dogs comes forth today with the suggestion that owners of dogs, who are required by law to keep them tied up, should see to it that these dogs are given fresh water several times each day. This is the surest way, he states, to prevent a dog from becoming a subject of the rabies.

To Open Bids On Municipal Projects

Grove City Plans Many Activities Which Will Benefit Community

GROVE CITY, July 7.—Following the council meeting of July 10 activities will start in municipal construction programs in Grove City.

Bids will be opened on materials at that time for the erection of a new unit for the sewage disposal plant which is estimated to cost completed $12,000.

The city will do the work on this unit themselves, employing local labor insofar as it is possible. The work will be supervised by City Engineer F. P. Graham.

Bids on other materials included in the city program of construction will be opened at that time.

SUBMIT REPORT

The committee of the Grove City council appointed to make investigation of the service charge asked by the Union Heat and Light Company for gas have made a written report to the council, which in turn will be turned over to the committee who presented them petitions bearing 1,109 signatures asking that the charge be discontinued.

RUSH SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Work on the chapel and science hall at the college has reached a stage of plastering both structures. It is confidently expected that both buildings will be ready for use by the time of school opening in September or shortly thereafter. Exact date for dedication has not been set until the work on the building has reached a nearer point of completion.

"Germany is fully appreciative of the United States' generosity in renouncing a large amount of debt payments. Germany also appreciates the sacrifices made by other nations concerned.

"We are thankful for President Hoover's action in the hour of our greatest economic danger."

Pledges Economy.

The proclamation pledged the government to the strictest economy at home, and referring to Chancellor Heinrich Bruening's message to Washington on Sunday, said:

"Germany has promised not to use the money released through the debt moratorium for government expenditures of any kind. The entire amount will be turned to the stabilization of German finances and economic reconstruction."

The proclamation also pleaded for closer international cooperation to assist in healing the world economic crisis, and pointed to the forthcoming international conferences as the most important steps on the road toward world solidarity.

Reports Conflict

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 7.—Conflicting reports as to the efficacy of the mine strike call issued West Virginia miners yesterday existed today as developments were awaited in the day-old strike. Union leaders have concentrated on instituting a walk-out in the Kanawha county coal fields.

State police reported the district quiet, concurring with the view of D. C. Kennedy, executive secretary of the Kanawha County Coal Operators Association, who stated that his reports showed "conclusively" the miners had not responded to the strike call. Opposition to this, C. F. Keeney, president of the miners' union, who declared the strike had made good progress and that almost 5,000 men had left work in 23 mines.

HOOVER'S WAR DEBT PROPOSAL IN EFFECT; ACCEPTED BY FRANCE

France agreed to a proposal that Germany borrow back the cash equivalent.

There were many details wherein the Young plan caused some difficulty because of their complicated nature, but without importance as to principle. These will be taken care of by the experts committee.

President Pleased

The President's announcement of the "accord in principle" came at the close of a day crowded with activity here and in Paris.

His face was wreathed in a broad smile when reporters filed into his office in response to his summons:

The President's statement read:

"I am glad to announce that the American proposal for one year's postponement of all intergovernmental debts and reparations has now been accepted in principle by all of the important creditor governments. The terms of acceptance by the French government are, of course, subject to the approval of the other interested powers, for whom the American government naturally cannot speak. Without going into technical terms, while certain payments are made by Germany for reparations account, the substance of the President's proposal is retained as the sums so paid are immediately reloaned to Germany.

"The technical difficulties arising from many complicated international agreements, which involve the aggregate payment between governments of over $800,000,000 per annum are now in the course of solution by the good-will and earnest cooperation of governmental leaders everywhere.

Subject To Congress Approval

"The American part of the plan is, of course, subject to the approval by Congress, but I have received the individual assurances of support from a very large majority of the members of both senate and house, irrespective of political affilations.

"The acceptance of this proposal has meant sacrifices by the American people and by the former allied governments, who are with all others suffering from world-wide depression and deficits in governmental budgets. The economic load most seriously oppressing the peoples of Germany and Central Europe will be immensely lightened.

"While the plan is particularly aimed to economic relief, yet economic relief means the swinging of men's minds from fear to confidence, the swinging of nations from the apprehension of disorder and governmental collapse to hope and confidence of the future. It means tangible aid to unemployment and agriculture.

Sincere Support In U. S.

"The almost unanimous support in the United States is again profound evidence of the sincere humanity of the American people. And in this year, devoted to economic upbuilding, the world has need of solemn thought on the causes which have contributed to the depression. I need not repeat that one of these causes is the burdens imposed and the fears aroused by competitive armament.

"Contemplation of the past few weeks should bring a realization that we must find relief from these fundamental burdens which today amount to several times the amount of intergovernmental debts."

experience in public utility matters comparable with Judge Woodruff's".

The new commissioner, who served as attorney-general in the former Pinchot administration, is a native of Dimock, Susquehanna county. He held a wide variety of offices in federal legal service, including that of a federal district judge in Hawaii. During the recent investigations of public utility companies sponsored by the governor, Judge Woodruff served as a personal adviser to the executive.

In addition to his long legal career, the new commissioner has won fame as an athlete. He was a member of the varsity football squad at Yale, was on the Yale crew and track team and coached the university of Pennsylvania crew and football squads. As a football coach, he was credited with originating some of the outstanding strategy of the modern game. He is 66 years old.

Felonious Assault And Battery Case

Pete Ross, charged with felonious assault and battery with a knife, was committeed to the county jail by Alderman H. G. Coates, today to await a hearing on Wednesday evening. It is claimed that Ross got into a quarrel with a neighbor during which he drew a knife.

In a lengthy interview on the president's offer to grant an extension to European government debtors, Senator Hiram Johnson seems to reach the conclusion that it is either a good or a bad step. Such conservatism is quite unusual for the senator.—The San Jose Mercury Herald.

In the past month many changes have taken place in Gerson's downstairs store in the Penn Theater Building, where the finest and most up-to-date optical department is located. A real surprise awaits you when you see the way this department has been beautified by the addition of new fixtures, new furniture and new floor coverings.
The optical department, in charge of Dr. M. C. Raffel, optometrist, is equipped with the most modern instruments for the testing of eyes. In addition, Dr. Raffel, with his many years of experience, is in a position to give a scientific and accurate eye examination. NO CHARGE IS MADE FOR EXAMINATION.
This week Gerson is featuring modern white gold glasses, for near or far vision, at the low price of $7.00. This is an unusually attractive price and no doubt will keep the optical department busy every day. To avoid waiting, appointment may be made by phoning 63.
To assure patrons of 100% satisfaction, Jack Gerson is giving 30 days free trial on glasses. If, at the end of 30 days, the glasses are not entirely satisfactory, the customer will not be asked to pay.
Gerson's glasses are sold on easy payments, without extra charge, making it possible for everyone to enjoy the satisfaction and comfort that come from wearing well fitted glasses.
An invitation is extended to the public to visit Gerson's modern optical department at their convenience.

CIVIL SERVICE CHANGE PROPOSED

WITHOUT going deeply into the merits of the proposition, it would seem that the suggestion of city council at the session Monday, that the regulations be changed by the civil service board so that when once a fireman or police officer resigns, he is through, is a good one.

It appears that under a regulation of some years standing, a policeman or fireman, in resigning, can be placed in a reserve list of eligibles, and this puts him in the forefront of eligibles, in case he desires to again seek the job later.

Councilmen believe that the rule should be changed, so that a resignation from the departments is exactly that, a complete resignation, and that if the persons resigning wants to seek the job again, he should be required to take his place along with the new applicants for the place, without any preferment.

This change seems to us one that is fair to all.

THE NATION'S STUPENDOUS ROAD BILL

Advices from Washington are to the effect that the nation will spend this year for federal aid, state and local road construction the enormous sum of $1,616,000,000, which is an increase of $15,000,000 over last year. It has been estimated that Pennsylvania's share of these expenditures will be $140,000,000. On state roads alone we are put down for $52,000,000. It seems amazingly large, but it proves that we continue to be in the forefront with this type of public improvement.

If the various states and countries continue to put such vast sums of money in improving the public highways, the day should come when we can boast of the best system of first-class roads of any country in the world. Most of the improvements have come about in the last two decades. It does not seem so many years ago that the people of Pennsylvania were having a spirited discussion over the advisability of a bond issue of $50,000,000 for better roads. Compared with what has happened since that day, it seems like merely a drop in the bucket.

REAL WORK FOR EDUCATORS

The "youngest college president" is discouraged with civilization. President Robert Hutchins of the University of Chicago, in a commencement address, talks like London's "gloomy dean."

"The world we have created is too much for us," he laments. "The intelligence of the race has failed before the problems it has raised."

All our knowledge has not prevented poverty, unemployment, crime and demoralization, nor solved the race problems.

"We cannot tell who or what is responsible for anything. The machinery we have invented produces results we did not foresee and cannot avoid. The industrial organization that has developed carries us along we do not know whither, we do not know why. We have more money, more food, more things and more power than at any other time in history. We are poorer, hungrier, more helpless and more confused than ever before."

He is not entirely hopeless, however. If there are answers to these big problems, he thinks they will be found in education, in better use of facts and minds. "Investigation must go forward. We must enlarge the bounds of human empire, but we must do more. We must learn to think about the facts we have, and train up others to think more wisely and intelligently than we have done."

Education has a job cut out for it. And in handling the job, it is evident that freedom of thought and freedom of teaching are more necessary than ever before.

MILLIONS TO SAVE REDWOODS

One of the finest glories of the western country is the giant redwood tree, a few forests of which remain against the temptation of private owners to dispose of them because of their high value as timber.

As the poet said: "Only God can make a tree" and, in the case of the redwood, it has taken many hundreds of years to bring them to their present state of grandeur unsurpassed by any living or growing thing in the world.

So it has appeared to a great many people that the redwood forests, perhaps above all others, ought to be saved for as many generations as may be permitted to enjoy them, and there have been agitations on a number of occasions to effect the saving of them. In some cases national parks have been established.

Recently, agitation developed to save the redwoods in the Bull Creek Flat, California. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., philanthropist extraordinary, heard the call of the old poem, "Woodman Spare That Tree," and he decided that the only way to have the trees was to buy them. Therefore he has offered to match the contributions of any and all other persons who wish to engage in the project to the amount of a million, says the Allentown Morning Call.

That would seem to assure the protection of the trees for as many more years as they will grow and defy the storms and the lightnings and the pests that up to this time have not been able to do much with them in the course of hundreds of years.

An Exploding Universe

By S. S. Myers

"One of the daily newspapers recently contained a paragraph stating that some astronomer says our universe is exploding. What is the meaning of such a statement?" (S. L. D.)

That is a theory advanced by two or three astronomers and is based on the discovery that all of the so called Island Universes are moving away from us at a tremendous rate of speed.

It would require too much space to discuss this fully. I can only say that the cluster of stars which we call our universe, of which the Milky Way is the outer rim, is only one of the many star clusters or universes in space. Ours, however, is much larger than any other star group yet discovered. Therefore it is called the Continent Universe, while the others are called Island Universes. A great number of these have been discovered out in space beyond the confines of our universe, and the peculiar thing about them is that they are all moving away from our universe at, as I said before, at a tremendous rate of speed. That is, they are spreading out in all directions from us as if there had been an explosion.

This has given rise to considerable speculation. One suggestion is that all of these star groups may, at one time, have been united in one vast universe, and that these Island universes may have segregated from the main body, having been thrown off or exploded outward into space.

Another suggestion is that the works of creation rhythmically expand and contract through long periods of time, and that what we now witness is the expansion period. But all of this is pure speculation. We know very little. Most of it is beyond our comprehension.

Blue Hills Far Away
Somebody Will Get Hurt
Fun or Exercise?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I prick up my ears and I seem to hear, all over the world, in a million homes, mothers saying to their scuffling children, "Somebody's sure to get hurt!"

And the mothers are right. As sure as can be, somebody gets hurt and runs to mother for comfort. Mothers have always warned; children have always been hurt.

Long ago, when I was 7, I walked with my grandmother down a street and saw some low, blue hills that seemed just a block or two away. "Let us go to those blue hills," said I to my grandmother . . . . She laughed and answered: "We could not walk there and back in a day—they are far away." . . . . She spoke the truth. And I have never been to those hills . . . . have known people who have thought of happiness as a low, blue hill close at hand, but have never walked in its direction and have never reached it—but are always expecting to reach it tomorrow.

In the war I sometimes came upon German prisoners who had been shell shocked and whose hands trembled and whose facial muscles twitched. . . . They had thought they would be safe from death the moment they surrendered, but they found themselves still at the front, doing stretcher duty . . . . And the shock of being unarmed and still in grave danger was too much for them . . . . It is better, perhaps, never to think of oneself as safe—but not to mind it very much.

I do not know how often I have heard people say: "One word leads to another—" . . . . It does . . . . Pity frequently leads to Contempt. Volunteer Frankness leads to Estrangement. Arrogance leads to Loneliness. Excess leads to Boredom.

Writers sometimes complain that they "can't work." Subjects that would stimulate their imaginations on a Tuesday are flat and dull to them on a Wednesday and will not "come alive." . . . . People are like that, too. On certain days all faces seem alive and cheerful and intelligent. On other days the face seems drawn and discouraged and beaten by life. . . . The difference is not in the weather nor in the passing face, but in the spirit that views them.

A man in his thirties went rowing with a boy in his teens. The boy said: "This is FUN!" . . . . The man said: "Yes, it's fine exercise." . . . . The difference in attitude explains why so many people wish they were young again.

ON BLUFFING

You know many persons who are trying to create impressions about themselves that are not true, and you bluff considerably yourself.

Consequently you have come to wonder if there are any persons in the whole wide world who are just exactly what they appear to be.

Most everyone has mean traits and would like to keep them covered.

Perhaps you average as high as the general run but not much better.

Yes, there is much bluffing in the world.

If there were not there would be a general disruption.

The number of marriages would be reduced if the prospective bride and groom really knew each other better.

Many strong friendships would be lost if all the meaness of each individual were known.

It is well for business, for social and economic systems that so many have the desire and the will power to control the worst that is in everyone of us.

Fortunately pride and the ambition to be thought of keeps the worst down and it is nothing to be alarmed about because there is personal deception to an extent—it has always existed.

The worst may be there but you can try to bring out the best.

Just Folks

ON GOING OUT

The women folks look up at me
And cry: "You are not fit to see!
That coat needs brushing, and your tie
Is old and worn and all awry,
And very shabby is your hat;
Surely you won't go out like that!"

They're fretted by the speck of dirt
Which seems to settle on my shirt,
And should the collar band be worn
Or show a spot that's frayed and torn,
They'll give the ultimatum flat:
"Now you're not going out like that!"

How easily they dust the coat
And trim the muffler round my throat!
How lightly they apply the touch
Of neatness which I need so much,
That outwardly at least I'll be
What women folks call "fit to see."

Lord, when it comes my time to die,
Let not my spirit be awry.
Grant me the time the while I live
To ask forgiveness and forgive,
That this old soul of mine may be
On its arrival: "fit to see!"

Let some one come to me who knows
Where every little blemish shows
And say: "This bit of wrong repair!
Brush off those dusty signs of care!"
And with the same old friendly pat
Make sure I don't go out like that!

The First Hints And Dints Column

The first Hints and Dints column appeared in The News on Jan. 28th, 1904, and never during that time even for a single issue has this department been missing. It may have been worse at some times than others but it has been here every day since that time. We have arranged for it's appearance when we were out of the city and on three occasions when we had a sick spell, one for ten weeks, one for seven weeks and one for five weeks, the old column kept on going. Some people may think it long enough to have this column appear, but it has been 27 years of hard work for us to keep it going. After reading some of the first columns we wonder why we are still living as some of the stuff was shooting stuff. Well, here's luck to you all!

Good people usually are simple—not stupid, but innocent of the sophistication that protects the worldly from the wiles of the wicked. They are easily tricked, especially by hyocrites who pretend a piety they do not feel. So long as the wolf wears sheep's clothing, he can do all the evil things peculiar to his nature and yet these simple ones will accept him as a sheep and defend him against his accusers. This gullibility is one of the chief weaknesses in all crusades for righteousness. It brings reproach on every good cause. It causes the world to say: "They defend their own crowd in evil while pretending to correct evil in others." The charge isn't true but it seems true. The good can't see what the world sees. To the matter-of-fact world of the ungodly, an embezzler is merely in embezzler, a gambler merely a gambler, a liar merely a liar; but to the simple and pious, these are persecuted brethren or falsely accused saints, or at the worst, poor misguided fellow sinners who meant no harm and should be forgiven. What the cause of righteousness needs more than anything else is a thorough purging of the kind of partizanship that refuses to see evil in a crook who claims to be one of the flock.

Nation Sees "Old Ironsides" Beckoning To Real Sailors

Disappointment Greets Announcement That Famous Frigate Reconditioned Through Country's Contributions, Will Not Sail Seas As Of Old

Much comment has been aroused by the announcement that the ship Constitution—"Old Ironsides"—must make her exhibition trip at the end of a towline, instead of under the power of spread sails. To be hauled by a tug, because the Navy has no crew able to handle a sailing vessel, is considered rather a disgraceful thing to happen to a proud old ship and rather ignominious sequel to her rebuilding through a nation's contributions, which were prompted not only patriotic regard for the frigate's history but by a sentimental feeling toward the sea and sailing days. Some even suggest that a crew might be recruited from the old "salts" who could man the ship and sail her again as she was sailed in former days.

Expressing its keen disappointment at the outcome of the arrangements for the tour, the ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC states "When the reconditioned frigate, 'Old Ironsides,' goes out on an exhibition tour, it will be in tow of a tug. Rather a disgraceful thing to happen to this famous old ship, which served the country so well in the days when the Barbary pirates were taught there was a new and unafraid nation in the world's family." That paper continues: "Congressman Bloom of New York conceived the idea of outfitting the ship as she was in her heyday and let her take to the breeze as she did when Hull, Bainbridge and Stewart walked her quarterdeck. But, alas, the Navy Department replies there are no sailor men today of the breed that 'Old Ironsides,' knew. Men in the Swedish and Norwegian merchant ships might know how to furl and unfurl her sails, but it would require months to train an American crew to handle the ship under sail. Hence the Constitution will be hauled by a noisy, smoke-puffing tug, not fit, so far as history is concerned, to keep her company."

"For 'Old Ironsides' to be towed by a tug as she is taken about for exhibition will not fully satisfy the imagination," says the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION. "If her old crew of 1812 could be summoned back, we of today might witness the beautiful spectacle of the ship maneuvering under full sail, independent of a modern device," this paper continues, but presumes that under present circumstances, "this resurrection cannot be accomplished, nor is it easy to restore other elements of the picture, for as Assistant Navy Secretary Jahncke remarks, to require modern sailors to don the queer and uncomfortable garb of a crew of 1812 would be tantamount to inviting mutiny."

"In leash, 'Old Ironsides' which did so much to assure the freedom of the seas!" exclaims the TOLEDO BLADE, as it pictures the ship a hundred years ago "under full sail, a bone in her teeth," overtaking and defeating sea pirates and other enemies." The Blade continues: "Conjure in imagination the captain and mates bellowing commands, two men at the wheel, gunners at stations, seamen swarming aloft, volleys, naval victories, home coming triumphant. Envision all that if you can, or read it in history for thrills and inspiration, and then ponder the statement of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy in Washington, that, although the rebuilt Constitution is completely rigged, no crew in the navy knows how to sail her." As the ERIE DISPATCH-HERALD remarks: "Where, oh were, is the sailorman of yesteryear? Surely sailors are not what they used to be. Sailormen and the ways of the seas have changed considerably in the last half century."

But are there no sailors capable of handling the Constitution? The NEW LONDON DAY thinks there are "a lot of old sailors, young in years, who can take a hitch in their belts and run up the ratlines and do things on a broad arm and no doubt the Secretary will hear from some of them." The Day believes that "if a census were taken in the seaports of New England, there could be little fear entertained but that a full and capable crew could be found to man the Constitution and sail her when and where the Navy Department ordered."

The ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS declares that "the first syllable of the word 'sailor' is an anachronism as far as the gobs in the United States Navy are concerned." As to the handling of sailing vessels, this paper agrees that "there is no need for this classical knowledge of ships on the modern floating machine shops that constitute the Navy today," but considers that "this is a hard blow to landlubber patriots, who have a sentimental feeling for the windjamming days of masts and rigging, bowsprits, spankers and tibs." The RICHMOND NEWS LEADER is of the opinion that "half of the boys of the world are sailors under the skin, and all they need to know it is to handle a tiller and hold a sheet-rope," and that "the age of the motor boat has not destroyed the atavistic love of the sweet and silent sea, of rigging that sings in the wind, and of sails that come to life at the mariner's bidding."

"It was a fine and delicate sentiment that preserved the famous frigate from being dismantled and destroyed," is the opinion of the MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL. "The pennies of the school children that saved the vessel performed a valuable service for the donors as well as for the nation. They have furnished for the present, and will furnish for future generations a living example of the American initiative, inventive genius, seamanship and courage exhibited when the 'Constitution' outmaneuvered a British fleet, then sank the 'Guerriere' and later the 'Java,' besides capturing a number of British vessels."

Rejoicing that the ship has been saved from a "catastrophic end," the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS gives an interesting summary of the work involved in reconditioning the vessel. "Sails, spars, timber for masts, cordage, paints and deck painting, valued at $50 ,were donated by many individuals, firms and associations," says The Argus. "The ordnance of the old ship had disappeared and in the making of new guns careful research was necessary to determine the shape, size, bore and other characteristics of the original equipment. Even such things as gun rammers, sponges, cannon balls, rope, matches, powder horns, bags, and magazines and shell rooms had to be supplied, a task involving additional research. It was not easy to duplicate the old harness casks for holding salt meat and fish, barrels for hardtack, hand and leg irons for recalcitrant sailors, cat-o'-nine tails, the sick bay with its mortar and pestle for making of drugs, drinking water hogsheads, while oil lamps, small boats and similar equipment." Though the expense has been great, this paper asserts that "no objection can be raised to such expenditures in such a cause," and concludes: "This relic of a former day is one of the nation's and the navy's greatest glories."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NO PESSIMISM THERE

Two cities of the Nation are immune from unimployment. Each city houses a great Institution of learning. One is Williamsburg, Virginia and the other is New Haven, Connecticut. Not only is every artizan in each city who is worth his salt employed but it has become necessary to bring in large numbers of craftsmen from other cities in order that the work may be done.

Williamsburg is the home of William and Mary College, the second oldest College in the United States and New Haven holds Yale.

Tremendously ambitious building plans are under way at each seat of learning. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is behind that at William and Mary, while Edward Harkness and the Estate of Stirling are financing the work at Yale. There are buildings in the course of construction at Yale which will cost about $25,000,000 when finished and not even Mr. Rockefeller himself knows what his Williamsburg plans will cost.

It is Rockefeller's intention to restore the entire city of Williamsburg to its colonial estate, to the beauty and quaintness it bore when the House of Burgesses of the First Plantation of Virginia met at one of its central street and the College of William and Mary was training many of the Founders of American Independance at the other end. It is a plan to preserve forever the history laden homes and public buildings.

It is a brave undertaking, for such an architect as Sir Christopher Wren drew the plans for the "Main" at William and Mary. He also designed the Court House which is

Pennzoil Makes Large Increase In Advertising

Business Shows Increase As Result Of Campaign Of Advertising

During the past year there have been many cuts in advertising appropriations in an effort to reduce overhead. Sales are usually reduced accordingly. The Pennzoil Company believes any reduction in advertising would be a very expensive economy.

The 1931 advertising campaign for The Pennzoil Company has been considerably enlarged and now includes every type of media. Not only has this company made large additions to the amount of space used, but has also increased the personnel of the advertising department.

As a group, the major oil companies met the depressed business situation with as much or more fortitude than companies in any other industry. Should other large manufacturers follow the example of these oil companies in advertising, it would accelerate business and do much to speed up a general recovery.

The Pennzoil Company, state that they already notice a considerable increase in the sale of Pennzoil in this area as a direct result of the present advertising campaign.

Find No Trace Of Lost Wealth

Many Letters Make Inquiry About Reputed Buchanan Estate

NEW YORK, July 7—Although Surrogate George A. Wingate, of Brooklyn has received more than 50 letters in the last eight months inquiring about the reputed $850,000,000 estate of "George Buchanan, brother of President Buchanan," no trace of the missing millions can be found.

The letters from 20 states and from Canada are unanimous in asserting that Buchanan made a will in 1832 leaving his estate in trust for 99 years and providing that it be divided at the end of that time among his heirs. Part of the estate the writers declare was 160 acres of highly valuable Brooklyn real estate.

George Buchanan, according to George Freeman, a California lawyer who represents some of the supposed heirs, quarreled with his brother and resolved that none of his immediate family should benefit by his wealth.

As far as can be determined, however, President Buchanan had no brother named George. And a thorough search of Kings county records reveals no testator named George Buchanan in the last 150 years.

Surrogate Wingate believes someone has been selling false information to Buchanan families throughout the country.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

If memory does not fail it was during the summer of 1902 that the North Hill was the scene of the exhibition in this city of T"he Greatest Show in the World," better known as the Barnum & Bailey circus. It exhibited on what was then known and is still recalled as Boyles field, one of the better residence districts of the city at the present time. As was usual in those days and is at the present time, a circus was an attraction that drew forth a record crowd. Such was the case in this incidence. The immense tent of the circus, a gigantic affair even in those days, was crowded with interested spectators. During the performance nothing more or less than a cloudburst occurred and it soon reached such proportions that even the st.unch waterproof canvas of the circus began to drip water on the audience. It began to look like a deluge. But that was not the worst of it, for when the performance was over and the crowd attempted to go home, they found the ground where the animal tent had been, was flooded and it was impossible to get home with dry feet. In attempting to get away from the scene of the show, scores of people would find themselves floundering, all of a sudden in a foot or two of water, where a tent pole had been set. It was a sight few will forget, to see men carrying women down Highland avenue, which was like a swollen turbulent gulley after a terrific storm with the water from the entire hill rushing down it at a terrific rate of speed and practically from curb to curb. Hundreds of men, women and children went home that time in their barefeet. But for all that it was a grand and glorious occasion, which few who participated in it ever forgot.

considered one of the most beautiful buildings in North America.

Williamsburg is saturated with the history of the Nation. Burton Parish Church had four Presidents as worshipers; Raleigh Tavern was where royal governors drank to their king and where revolutionists such as Patrick Henry, George Randolph and John Marshall drank confusion to George IV; where Thomas Jefferson, student at William and Mary, writing home, speaks with rapture of "dancing with Belinda." In Williamsburg was the home of Chief Justice Marshall. There was Wythe House the home of the law teacher of both Jefferson and Marshall (and how these two did differ on all subjects of the law); Garrett House; Paradise House; Barlow House; Red Lyon; The Travis, The James Galt, The Coke and the Roper Houses. The first theatre to be built in the United States was at Williamsburg.

And Mr. Rockefeller is going to restore all these and many more Houses and buildings famous in American history at Williamsburg.

ONE OF THE PLEASURES

Of having a lot of trouble is in having it over.
Of achieving success is in being able to share it with a loved one.
Of doing good work is to know that no one can ever produce it as evidence against us.
Of being a parent is being a child again with the children.
Of creating an idea is the feeling that one is manifesting divinity.
Of leaving home is the joy of the returning welcome.
Of listening to another's speech is the privilege of disagreeing with him.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Place your finger on your Adam's Apple. You are actually touching your larynx—this contains your voice box—your vocal chords.

From the report of a famous scientist who studied the effects of LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—

"During the course of some recent investigations...we became interested to ascertain whether Ultra Violet Rays produced any change in the quality of the cigarettes. It may interest you to know that I was able to detect a very definite difference in the irritant qualities of the treated and untreated cigarettes. Several tests were made, not only on myself, but others as well, and we experienced little difficulty in selecting the treated or irradiated cigarettes as distinctly less irritating to the mucous membrane of the nose and pharynx than the control or untreated cigarettes."

Sunshine mellows—heat purifies—that's why LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. Remember—LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that brings you the added benefits of "TOASTING". And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple". Be careful in your choice of cigarettes.

LONDON STILL LARGEST CITY

8,202,818 Census Shows, With New York 1,220,901 Behind But Gaining Fastest

LONDON, July 7.—This still is the largest city in the world. Census figures, made public today, proved it.

Epworth League Institute Plans

Young People Of Methodist Churches Hold Rally Monday In East Brook Church

Nearly two hundred young people, members of the Epworth League of the various Methodist Episcopal churches of the New Castle sub-district, met in a rally Monday evening at the East Brook church, of which Rev. Thomas Pollard is pastor.

The early part of the evening was spent out of doors, with Ruth Buchanan in charge of the program of games and contests which were heartily entered into. A song service in the open was much enjoyed.

As darkness settled down the young folks trouped into the church and Dr. W. A. Womer, president of the Association, took charge of the program, which was in the form of an Institute "pep" meeting, and led a rousing song service.

Dr. Womer then introduced Dr. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, and Miss Beulah Magruder, deaconess of the First Methodist church, who spoke of the Institute which will be held August 10 to 16 at Allegheny College, Meadville. Dr. Maxwell gave an outline of the program and Miss Magruder spoke of some of the special features. They will both be teachers at the Institute.

The roll of the ten churches in the district were called, each responding with the number they expect to attend. Much interest was created in the coming event and it is anticipated that the New Castle district will send a large delegation.

The evening closed with the host League serving most tempting refreshments.

Those responsible for the success of the affair were: Mary Nunn, publicity; Ruth Buchanan, entertainment; Helen Emerick, arrangements and Orville Kerr and Mrs. May McConahy, refreshments.

Only $320 Loss In Fires Last Month

Chief's Report Shows City Loss On Contents During June Only $10

A remarkably low loss record has been recorded by the fire department with the report of Fire Chief Lynn to Superintendent of Public Safety Reeves that the content loss in fires during June was only $10.

The report states that the total loss in city and vicinity during June was $620. Of that amount $310 was on buildings and $310 on contents in city and vicinity. During the month one call was received from outside the city for assistance when a truck, carrying 60,000 cans of the American Can Company plant here caught on fire at the foot of Mount Jackson hill in North Beaver township.

Of the loss in the truck fire $300 was claimed sustained on the cans which were classed as contents. Deducting this amount from the above loss the city loss is $310 on buildings and only $10 on contents.

This Chief Lynn points out, is a remarkable record for a city the size of New Castle.

Michael Bender of the Harbor sent to The News a lovely bouquet of gladioli, grown in his flower garden. The gladioli and the lilies are attractive sights in the business office.

New Problems For President

Hoover's Troubles Are Not All Ended By Moratorium

CONGRESS WILL HAVE MUCH TO SAY

By GEORGE HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 7—All of President Hoover's worries were not ended today by France's acceptance of his war debt holiday. In fact, some of them, important ones, too, may be said to be just starting.

The plan involves a financial sacrifice on the part of the United States treasury of some $246,000,000 for the current fiscal year which began last Wednesday. The treasury closed the fiscal year on June 30 with a deficit in excess of $900,000,000.

Unless there is an almost miraculous upturn in business conditions here and abroad, treasury experts anticipate a deficit for the current year almost as large as the $900,000,000 written in red ink on June 30. To this must now be added the $246,000,000 which the American government is to forego during the year on Europe's indebtedness.

The money must be found somewhere to offset it—either by reduced governmental expenditures, issuance of more bonds, or increased taxes, governmental expenditures have been cut and cut until there is a general belief that little more can be pruned unless there is to be a marked diminution of governmental activities. Increasing taxes in the face of an approaching presidential campaign is politically out of the question. There remains short-term borowing by the treasury.

Landlady-Roomer Argument Results In Death Of Two

Boarder Shoots Landlady, Then Turns Gun On Himself In East Liverpool, O.

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 7—A landlady-roomer disagreement today had ended in death for both parties, as Mrs. Hannah Allison, 50 lay dead of a revolver bullet fired by Henry Barnett, 60-year old laborer who turned the gun on himself shortly afterward.

Barnett, angered by the landlady's demand that he move because he had brought a woman companion to the home, shot Mrs. Allison as she descended the stairs to answer a telephone. An attempt to shoot a fellow boarder at the same time failed. Barnett then shot himself through the temple and died five hours later in a hospital.

MY NEW YORK
By JAMES ASWELL

Central Press.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Is it possible that Broadway is going Alphonse-Gaston on us? The New Courtesy everywhere apparent is a little dismaying.

Cautious visitors, long aware of the hard-boiled philosophy in practice where the Mazdas are brightest, wonder what sort of new racket is behind the gay gallantry even of theatre box-office cashiers.

Nowadays there are show-shops where you can boldly go up to the wicket and ask for seats without having your composure shaken in a blast of sarcasm. Cashiers are seen to smile. You do not feel, any more, as if you are demanding a job whenever you approach them.

The gentlemen who preside over the gates of Ziegfeld's glory clinic are notable in this regard. They joke. They move promptly. They give customers the feel of being customers once again. They appear to have been hired because they are pleasant and efficient ticket dispatchers, not for the one-time qualifications of all box-office men: ability to leer and a corrosive tongue.

And word has come that Earl Carroll is hiring countermen for his long, new, open ticket tables whose first attribute must be a desire to serve. When you buy your tickets for the new "Vanities" it will be, moreover, with the knowledge of exactly what you're getting. A visible rack will show all positions.

Is this New York—or are we dreaming?

THE NIGHT WATCH.

Suggested diversion, on a summer night, when you dislike the idea of a cabaret operation upon your wallet:

Rent, from one of the numerous agencies, a new $4-per-hour Packard or Cadillac with chauffeur and, sunk deep in the upholstery, feeling more opulent than Charlie Schwab, glide around the fringe of Manhattan—up the West Side and down the East Side.

Insist on probing into the quieter thoroughfares. Ask to be shown Spuyten-Duyvil-on-Hudson when you have left, far uptown, the dark spangled vistas of the Drive. You climb a hill and thread among estates with great lawns, smothered in greenery, perched on the high lip of the Hudson. All this a few minutes, by train, from Grand Central.

Downtown, try South Street, a wide boulevard at the water's edge, mysterious with docks and lined with dubious hotels, ancient vacant-looking structures and gospel missions. You are so close under Brooklyn Bridge that you feel the great span's frown. Far-off Brooklyn glitters, and the white shaft of the Bossert Hotel reminds you of the Marine Roof topping it, where you have danced in an atmosphere so shiplike you felt vaguely uneasy about having left your passport home.

But as you progress eastward you encounter the thunder of presses from the great white building where the Journal and the American are born. The town is in character again.

Particularly will this be a novel night for native New Yorkers!

WITH A FAST CAMERA.

J. P. M'EVOY'S new novel is laid in the big broadcasting rooms, the author having dealt already with the stage, the screen and the comic-strip artists . . . Interesting Experiment Is Described

Camp For Diabetic Children Said To Be Beneficial

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

An interesting experiment has been carried on for several years at Ore Lake, near Detroit—a summer camp for diabetic children.

Diabetes is a much more severe disease in children than in older people. Its successful treatment requires careful medical supervision, and strict dietary control. The life-prolonging qualities of insulin are more evident in children than any other group of diabetics.

Obviously children being less responsible, these diabetic children need to be watched very carefully They are cut off from the pleasures of going to a summer camp with other children. It would be dangerous to allow a diabetic child to partake of the general diet at a summer camp and undertake the activities of other children without having a doctor's watchful eye upon them.

With this idea the camp in Michigan was organized. There are three kinds of special supervision not found in other camps. First, a physician and nurse are on duty—in fact, one physician and two nurses for about every 25 patients. Then a special dietitian. And thirdly, special recreation supervisors.

The cafeteria style of serving food is weighed for each little patient and individualization in diets is possible by the use of trained dietetic helpers. Three groups of children getting three general classes of diet, are fed at separate tables.

Many arrangements have to be set up in such camp. A laboratory is equipped. An emergency treatment room prepared to give treatment for coma and other accidents is made ready. The recreation workers carry dextrose wafers around with them all the time to treat the condition of low blood sugar (hypoglycaemia) which so frequently arises when insulin is given. Iusulin is administered to the patients in constantly varying doses to meet their changing needs.

The benefits from such an organization are many. First, the child gets a vacation from home and the parents get a vacation also. A diabetic child must be watched and it is inevitable that such watching may turn into nagging and the condition get on the nerves both of the child and its home guardians.

The psychological effect on the child of seeing all its companions in the same predicament as itself is splendid. The installation of proper knowledge of dieting and exercise and insulin administration can be carried out better in a large group than individually. An "S. T. Y. D. club" (Stick to Your Diet Club) is formed and the members are taught and helped to earn enough money to pay their way through camp the next year. Thus the ideals and methods of treatment learned in camp are carried over through the year.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

S. S. 'A friend of mine and myself had an argument we would like to have you decide for us. I stated to him that perverts or degenerates were caused by a condition of the blood cells that could be cured by glandular extracts. His contention is that its cause is purely hereditary."

Answer: Perverts and degenerates, using that term in the common acceptance, have no abnormal condition of the blood cells and are, in most instances, uninfluenced by glandular treatment. The condition often occurs in individuals with a bad hereditary history, but environment also plays a part in the development of many cases.

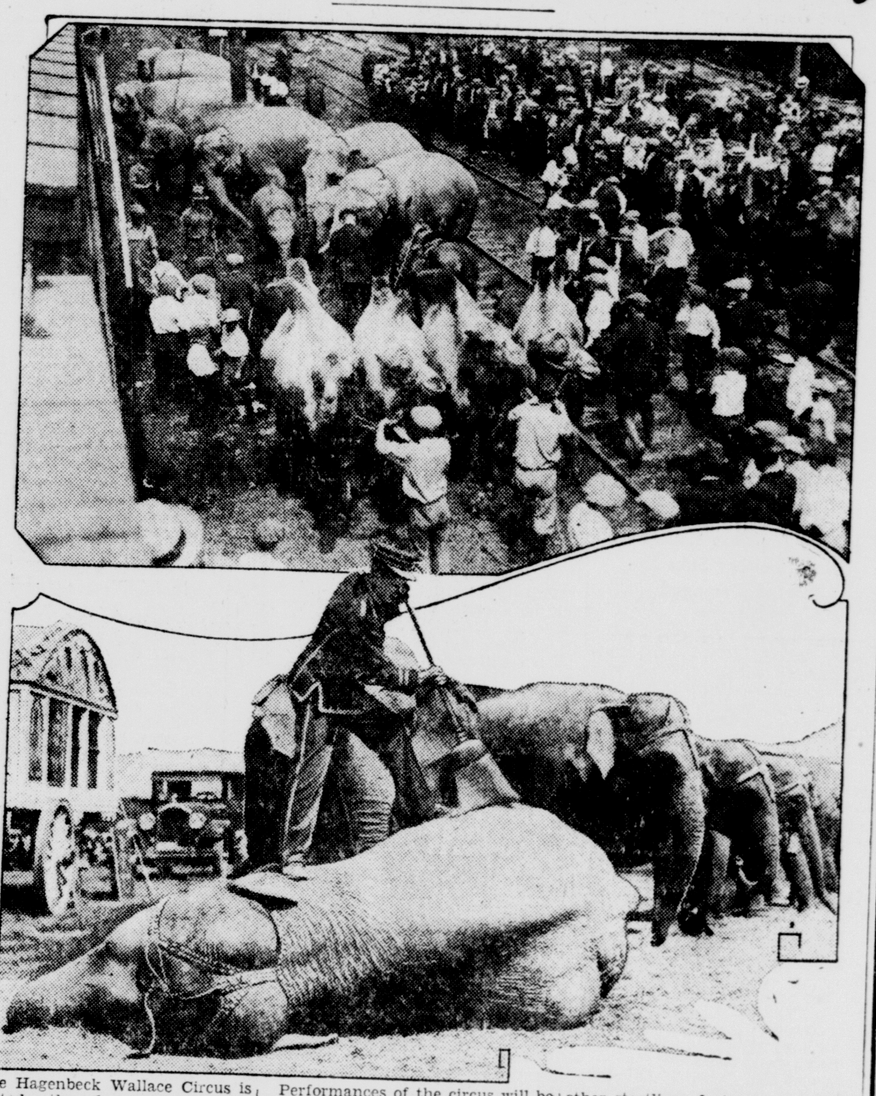
Famous Circus Arrives For Double Performance Today



The Hagenbeck Wallace Circus is here today three long railroad trains bringing picturesque invaders to this city this morning: performances will be given this afternoon and tonight and midnight will witness the breaking of the great tented encampment and the departure to scenes anew.

First to come to a puffing halt early this morning was the "flying squadron," as the first section of the circus' railroad equipment is known. The volunteer reception committee of juveniles and their elders was on hand to bid it vociferous welcome. Magically it disgorged men and six team horses: huge, wheeled burdens hooded under tarpaulins, and the procession to the show grounds started. At the grounds, a geometric pattern of iron laying-out-pins appeared to spring up simultaneously, with rag pennons of red and blue fluttering in the tops. Soon mammoth white cloths rose like Aladdin's palaces.

The miniature city of twenty separate tents was installed.

Performances of the circus will be given at two o'clock and at eight o'clock. The crowds will be admitted an hour earlier to permit observation of the rare wild animals, queer quadrupeds, costly birds and other strange living creatures of land, ocean and air. This great college of natural science forms an eclipse of chariot cages within the immense menagerie tent.

"The Golden Orient" a superb spectacle of old Japan opens the lengthy program. Prominent among the famous Hagenbeck Wallace performers is Clude Beatty, with his display of over 30 fighting lions and tigers, the Clarkonians and aerial Shepards, the famous Hanneford Family with "Poodles" premier riding clown, "The Great Wilno" who is actually fired through space with violent velocity from the mouth of a monster cannon and the famous Neiss family in the highest part of the tent. They ride bicycles, walk in wooden shoes, do somersaults and handsprings and perform many other startling feats on a lengthy cable. Miss Ella Neiss is one of the few women working in such a thrilling and fearless act. High School horses menage act beautiful in spangled costumes with dazzling effects. There are fifty clowns with new funny oddities to make the children laugh. Five herds of highly trained elephants and many other circus features all go to make Hagenbeck Wallace Circus, America's Greatest Show.

The menagerie consists of 30 dens of wild beasts, which include lions, tigers, leopards, pumas, bears, gnus, tapiers, ostrich, elk, kangaroes, deer, monkeys, elephants, camels, zebras, lamas, hippopotamus and pigmy hippo. The menagerie is open one hour before the main performance starts in order that the educational value of this rare exhibit may be fully appreciated.

Count all the fingers on both of your hands, then, when you have reached the last digit, start in to count backwards on one hand, saying, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6 (emphasizing 6), then holding up the other hand, you say "And 5 makes 11."

ALLOCATE STATE FUND FOR MOTHER'S ASSISTANCE

Welfare Department Apportions $4,115,938 Fund For Two Years

Lawrence County To Receive $34,720 For 70 Families

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, July 7.—Allocation have been made by the Welfare Department of the $4,115,938 appropriation made by the legislature for mothers' assistance fund work during the 1931-33 biennium.

The 1929 legislature appropriated $2,750,000 the same amount as the 1927 General Assembly allowed.

All but $50,000 of the appropriation is used for the assistance of families. The $50,000 is used for maintaining the bureau headquarters in the Welfare Department.

Previous to the 1929-31 biennium allocations were made to counties according to their classification. Under that arrangement all counties in the same class received the same amount from the State. Now allocations are made on the basis of the number of cases to be cared for in each county.

The appropriation approved for the 1931-33 biennium is expected to care for 8,033 families. The department estimated that on May 31, 1930 there were 2497 families on the waiting list. With the increased appropriation over two years ago that number can be accomodated.

During the present biennium the State will contribute $766,883 for mothers' assistance work in Philadelphia. That is the largest county allocation made. A similar amount must be contributed by local authorities. Allegheny county is next with an allocation of $585,480.

There are ten counties in Pennsylvania that do not join in the mothers' assistance work. The department reserves $10,000 of its appropriation for work in these unorganized counties in the event the county officials decide to join in the work. The unorganized counties are: Cameron, Elk, Forest, Fulton Mifflin, Perry, Pike, Sullivan, and Wayne.

Allocations made to the various counties and the number of families to be provided for during the 1931-33 biennium are:

Adams, $6445, 14 families; Allegheny, $585,480, 1148 families; Armstrong, $36,700, 75 families; Beaver, $65,331, 116 families; Bedford, $12,620, 32 families; Berks, $105,374, 223 families; Blair, $56,887, 110 families; Bradford, $22,609, 52 families.

Game Protector Frank L. Coen To Make Investigation Of Waterway Today

It is reported by some fishermen that a sand washer now in operation on the creek is responsible for the condition of the water.

Monthly Meetings Of Union Church Groups Create Much Interest Among Members

On the first Sunday of each month the Y. P. C. U. members of the Bethel United Presbyterian, The Mt. Jackson United Presbyterian, the Moravia Presbyterian and the Westfield Presbyterian churches meet in union at one or the other of the churches and Sunday evening the meeting was held in the Mt. Jackson church with "Chistian Patriotism" as the subject.

The leaders for the evening were Eleanor Craig of Mt. Jackson church and Chester Kyle of the Bethal church. Special music featured the program with a vocal duet by the Mehard Sisters of the Moravia church; and a trombone solo by John Wallace of the Westfield church.

The most interesting feature of the evening was the debate: Resolved that Church Attendance Makes Better Citizens." The affirmative was presented by Robert Byler of Mt. Jackson and Mary Alice Kyle of Bethel: while the negative side was taken by Dale McCurley of Westfield and Gladys Brest of Moravia.

The affirmative side got the decision, but both sides showed much preparation and thought.

The next union meeting will be in the Westfield church on August 2.

New Faces Make Debut Monday At Scouts' Retreat

Some Boys Leave, Others Stay As Second Week's Program Commences

(Special To The News)

CAMP JOHN M. PHILLIPS, July 7.—New Scouts arrived at camp Monday morning for the second week of the first two weeks period. The usual routine was carried out after the newcomers arrived.

A game of hare and hounds was played in the afternoon. The hares were Bob Miner, Ed. McCreary and Bill Shira, who led a five or six-miles race. The hares managed to get in camp just a few minutes before the hounds. The hounds reached camp just in time for swimming.

Sues for $60,000

The campfire program was held in the evening, consisting of songs and a mock trial. The mock trial was a suit of $60,000 brought against the K. P., Don Allen, by Camp Director LeRoi Norton. The K. P. was accused of breaking a cup. The case ended with the jury convicting Allen.

Merit badges for swimming were awarded to J. Howard Swick Jr. and John McClelland. Stanley Stetson passed a 50-yard swimming test.

A number of games were played throughout the day. After the campfire program taps were sounded and the campers retired after enjoying a day full of recreational and educational programs.

The campers are well cared for by "Doc." Sankey and the menus being served by Mrs. Hanna are certainly going over strong with the boys. There is much interest being manifested in the coming week of Seascout training week of August 1 to 8, when the leaders who take the Annapolis course will be back in camp and put on all the stunts they learn on their training period. Of course, regular Scouts may also enroll during this period, but Scouts of 15 and older are especially invited during this period.

Woman Injured In Auto Accident

Thrown From Car As Machines Come Together At Ray Street And Butler Avenue

When the machine of George Ort, 647 South Ray street, and Francis N. Jones of 509 Laurel boulevard, came together early last evening at Ray street and Butler avenue, Mrs. Gertrude Bupp, 647 South Ray street, who was riding in the front seat of the Ort car, was thrown to the street when the door of the Ort machine sprung open due to the crash of the machines. Both cars were somewhat damaged.

There is considerable variance in the claims of the owners of the two machines. Mr. Ort claims he was en route east on Butler avenue at Ray street as he was making a left turn onto Ray street, for which he claims he had plenty of time. Jones, he claims, was coming west on Butler avenue at a high rate of speed and instead of turning out to the right, turned to the left and into his machine. He further claims that Jones declined to take the injured woman to a doctor.

Jones in his turn claims that Ort turned in front of his machine, that there was a car bearing Pennsylvania license stopped at his left in Ray street and about to turn onto Butler avenue, and that the driver of this car had his eyes on the Ort machine and did not see him, and claims that this was the reason he had to turn to the left. He claims he helped pick up Mrs. Bupp, but could not take her to a doctor because his machine was out of commission. Mrs. Bupp was apparently not seriously hurt.

Lester Smith, R. D. 5, reported that he was en route west on Croton avenue at the east side of the North street bridge. The car of Ray W. Keck of 227 Lincoln avenue had his car parked on Croton avenue and a car going east on Croton avenue crowded him into the Keck machine. Some damage was done.

James Bobbino of 1002 South Jefferson street reported that he had his machine parked at Castle Beach last night while he was swimming and that a car bearing Pennsylvania license RD970 backed into and tore off the fender of his machine.

Seek Control Methanol For Commercial Use

Highly Poisonous Alcohol, Used In Anti-Freeze Compounds Causes Many Deaths

MANY IGNORANT OF DANGER MEET DEATH

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 7—"The moronic minority" should be protected by fool-proof safeguards from synthetic methanol, a highly poisonous alcohol which has caused a large number of deaths during the last year.

This view was expressed Monday by Dr. Harrison E. Howe, editor of "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry," journal of the American Chemical society.

"The possibility of wholesale deaths from drinking methanol has unquestionably been greatly underrated," Howe declared.

The facts are notwithstanding somewhat more than 200 deaths during the past winter attributable to the use of methanol as a beverage, the injury predicted from its use in the automobile radiator did not materialize."

Howe suggested that the coloring of methanol sold for anti-freeze purposes should be continued, that some distinctly deterrent material be added as an additional warning and that there should be a prominent poison label on all packages.

Admits Hazard.

"When these things have been done all that can be reasonably expected by way of protection will have been provided," the chemist continued. "Agreement upon such a program by the industries concerned with a faithful adherence to its provisions, will win the commendation of officials, some of whom have been critical of menthanol distribution during the past winter."

Howe admitted the hazard involved in the widespread distribution of methanol. He said that "the problem now is the same that has confronted us for some time, namely, the hazard involved when ignorant people, or those with depraved tastes insist on drinking methanol, which we know is toxic when taken as a beverage."

He continued:

"There have been ample experiments to prove this, and unfortunately they have been on a large scale. Over 200 persons have died from drinking methanol. A dozen or more have died from drinking some of the older types of denatured alcohol and several thousand have died from drinking various brands of alleged liquors, in which ethyl alcohol itself in the quantities consumed was probably the immediate cause of their demise.

"It is unfortunate that the trade rivalry for the anti-freeze market has led to a competition involving legislation. Those who resent the intrusion of methanol are said to have introduced, or to have caused to be introduced, in many state legislatures bills which seem to aim at prohibiting the use of methanol for any purpose, and particularly as an anti-freeze."

Howe held this manifestly unjust. Safeguards in the distribution were advocated in order to render unnecessary legislative restrictions."

The three, John Ballavon, 19, George Ballavon, 18, and Joseph Ostovitz, are held awaiting the results of the search. New Taxi Service Here Protested

Campbell And Fowler Taxi Companies Protest Forrest's Petition

TESTIMONY HEARD AT PITTSBURGH, PA.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—Two protests were argued before the Public Service Commission here today against the application of Clifford D. Forrest, of New Castle, for permission to operate a third taxi service in New Castle.

The protestants were the Campbell and Fowler taxi services. Testimony was produced by both complainants in an attempt to show that the present service is adequate and that inauguration of a third service would be unprofitable under present economic conditions.

Forrest, the applicant, testified that the existing services did not provide adequate transportation to and from the three railroad terminals in New Castle and vicinity. From a personal survey of the situation he said he had been led to believe that the city should have the benefit of an additional taxi service.

George W. Hamilton, 423 Park avenue, New Castle, ticket agent for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, said that the present taxi service was inadequate on rainy days when patrons arriving at the station were left without transportation to the center of the city.

Needs for additional taxi service were voiced during the hearing by Howard Kelly, an auditor, of 2103 Highland avenue New Castle, and Thomas J. McCullough, of Wampum, a Lawrence county commissioner. Kelly, who had been employed by the Campbell company in auditing work, testified that to his knowledge the business of the company in 1930 was greater than that of the previous year.

Commissioner McCullough, who said he commutetd between New Castle and Wampum during the winter months by way of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, testified he found the present taxi service continually inadequate and was forced to travel to the courthouse from the station on foot many times.

Similar testimony was given by Albert Dinsmore, transfer company proprietor of 506 Court street, and Clyde Confer, at one time employed as a driver by the Campbell company. Confer testified the present equipment was insufficient to meet passenger demands during inclement weather. He said at one time the city was provided with 28 cabs when several other companies were in business there.

George Forrest, of 406 Florence avenue, New Castle, father of the applicant, recently discharged as manager by the Campbell Taxi company, testified he had deeded over to his son without any consideration a property in New Castle valued at $6,000 in order that he might make the present application. He told how he had voluntarily suggested a wage cut shortly before he was discharged because of the loss in business.

R. J. Campbell, proprietor of the Campbell Taxi service, 112 South Jefferson street, testified concerning the declining receipts of his company at present operating six cabs in New Castle. Receipts for the first six months of 1931 totaled $5,895.25 as against $7,859.61 for period last year. Total receipts for the year of 1930 totaled $13,755.06. Campbell gave the value of his assets in business as about $5,500.

He told the commission that his cabs were not stationed at the Baltimore and Ohio station because of its distance from town and the small number of passengers arriving there. Service was not provided at the Pennsylvania station except on call because passengers arriving there were given bus transportation by the railroad into the city.

Peter Rupp, former taxi service proprietor, testified he sold his equipment to Campbell last May because of the loss incurred under present industrial conditions. He characterized the Campbell service as "the best ever provided in New Castle."

James Fowler, operator of the city's only other service, admitted that he had "not made a nickel" since January 1 of this year and said there was no need for additional service.

Detective Will Give Testimony

Expected To Tell Of Attempt Of Engle To Enter Harrington's Home

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 7.—How Harry Engle, the deposed traction commissioner, made alleged attempts to enter the home of John T. Harrington, millionaire and former utility official, was expected to be revealed today as County Detective W. J. Harrison took the stand in the long drawn out trial of County Prosecutor Ray L. Thomas on a blackmail charge. Harrison had been assigned to guard Harrington's home at the instance of Thomas after Engle was alleged to have threatened the millionaire.

Harrison's testimony will follow that of A. C. Blinn, vice president and general manager of the Ohio Edison company, whose letter to city council in February projected the whole public expose of the utilities-public officials scandal, leading to the present trial. Blinn, on the stand late yesterday, told of threats Engle allegedly made to kill Harrington, unless Engle received the money he felt was due him under the terms of an "A and B" contract. Engle, as traction commissioner, had rendered services for the utility company he has maintained, for which he was to receive over $100,000.

Blinn told of the circumstances under which he was impelled to write to city council and ask for the removal of Engle from his post. Blinn testified he sent the letter "to show what kind of man Engle was." In the letter Blinn had declared Engle was using his office in a gigantic blackmail scheme against the company.

Testimony relative to the sending of the letter was also given by counsel for the utility. Attorney Charles Smith. Smith also admitted hiring detectives to shadow Engle.

British Renew Invitation To Powers To Meet

Ask Powers To Gather To Settle Questions In Debt Moratorium

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 7.—The British government has renewed its recent invitation to powers signatory to the Young plan to hold a conference in London at an early date to thresh out the technical difficulties still unsettled in connection with the Hoover debt moratorium proposal.

An announcement to this effect was made in the house of commons today by Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald. He said that in view of the several important points still left open by the Franco-American agreement, such a conference would be most desirable.

The invitations to this conference originally were issued by the British government last week at a time when the French and American negotiators appeared to be almost hopelessly deadlocked.

France Takes Up Other Problems Of Debt Suspension

Problems Created As Result Of Moratorium Now To Be Solved

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 7.—With the Hoover Moratorium effective as of July 1 as the result of the definite Franco-American accord signed here last night, Paris turned its attention today to new negotiations, for a European agreement on questions raised by the debt suspension.

The new negotiations will be between the signers of the Young plan and the founders of the Bank of International Settlements. Since France has agreed to offer no obstacles contravening the spirit of President Hoover's plan, the United States has no direct concern in the new parleys.

France, England, Germany and other signatories to the Young plan have now to work out an accord concerning the $100,000,000 fund guaranteed by France to other recipients of German reparations in case Germany declares a moratorium under the Young plan at the end of the Hoover moratorium.

Agreement must also be sought on the problem of German reparations in kind and Germany must furnish to France assurance that sums released by the Hoover plan will be used exclusively for economic purposes.

Maybe if Chicago gangsters escape on other counts now lodged against them the city could accuse them of parking too near a fire plug or something.—The Seattle Daily Times.

President Congratulates Globe-Circling Fliers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 7—President Hoover on Monday afternoon told Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, who encircled the globe by air in little more than eight days, that the nation is proud of their indomitable will, courage and spirit of adventure.

The president's word of praise for the two aviators was given in the rose garden of the White House in the presence of several members of the cabinet and heads of the army and navy air services, with a battery of cameras and sound-picture machines trained on the group.

The intrepid fliers, with their wives and F. C. Hall of Oklahoma, their financial backer, arrived at the mansion for luncheon with President and Mrs. Hoover after a triumphal procession up Pennsylvania avenue from union station.

President Hoover said:

"I am happy personally to congratulate you on your achievement of flying around the world in the remarkable time of less than nine days. The first flight around the world was made only seven years ago when officers of the United States army spent 15 days and six hours in the air, but, because of many delays and mishaps, required 175 days for the entire journey.

"Your accomplishment is striking testimony of the advancement which has been made during the last few years by American pilots and American engineers. I congratulate you for your courage, determination, technical ability and skill."

The fliers were greeted on arrival by Senator Hirman Bingham of Connecticut, president of the National Aeronautical association, and George W. Offutt, president of the Washington Board of Trade.

The crowds lining the streets from the union station to the White House were perhaps less voiciferous than on some other occasions when national figures arrived in the capital, but the greeting bespoke admiration and a sincere welcome.

The fliers' wives remained modestly in the background, as did Hall, who made the trip possible. It was necessary for Secretary of War Hurley to push Hall forward to get him in the picture with the president at the White House.

A brief respite had been planned for the fliers' party before going to the White House, but a misunderstanding as to train arrival caused the parade to end in the White House grounds.

Both Mrs. Post and Mrs. Gatty showed their pride in their husbands, with the entire party took the greeting of official Washington with little emotion.

Post, the pilot, wore a blue business suit with light blue shirt, while Gatty was attired in a gray business suit, with white shirt and tan shoes. Both were hatless.

Their wives were brightly attired, Mrs. Post wearing a flowered pink dress, with blue straw hat and black patent leather shoes. Mrs. Gatty wore a flowered dress with green predominating, white shoes and white straw hat.

A reception by the National Press club and a dinner tendered by the Board of Trade were included on the day's program.

No Pills Answer Parent Problems, Dr. Myers States

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if there were pills which, taken in the evening, would cause parents to awaken in the morning with no problems? No one has ever invented such medicine and no one ever will, for although all parents have problems pretty much alike, these problems are not so nearly similar as they sometimes seem.

Loretta of 11 talks back to her mother. Many children do such things. Does Loretta talk back often? How does she act when she does so? In what kind of situations does she talk back? How long has she been talking back? Has she been talking back to other members of the family? Does she talk back to her teacher? Does her mother grow angry at Loretta when she talks back? Does the mother talk back, too? Who has the last word, as a rule? When Loretta talks back does she win? Is her voice low or high, loud or quiet then? What are the qualitites of the mother's voice? What does dad do when Loretta talks back to mother? How does grandma act if she is present? Are there other children in Loretta's family? Older? Younger? How does Loretta get along with them? How does she get along with other children?

Is Loretta often given commands? Is she scolded often? Punished frequently? Is she often praised for worthy conduct? Does she have time that is her own for play and recreation when she will not be interrupted to run errands? Does she bring herself in from play at a regular hour each evening and send herself to bed by the clock? Or, is she called by some person to come in and told when to go to bed each evening? Is she called till she comes and told till she goes?

How many bosses has Loretta? How much do they disagree or how nearly are they alike in their treatment of Loretta?

Does Loretta feel secure in the family? Does she feel she is considered as important, loved as much as other members there? Or does she think herself a favorite, or suspect that a brother or a sister is loved more than she is? How do the family's adult friends and relatives act toward Loretta? Does she get along well at school? Does she get on as well as her parents think she should? Is she compared with other children who do some things better?

Does Loretta feel that her possessions are protected and respected? Does she feel it easy to speak truthfully, or does she find it more to her advantage to lie? Does she feel that her parents have confidence in her and take her at her word? when she feels troubled or has met with any worries or any difficulties are her parents the first she wants to tell about them?

Has Loretta always had her questions answered kindly and sympathetically? Does she feel that she is understood? Does she enjoy her parents? Do they enjoy her?

Does Loretta wait upon herself, and send herself to school on time? Or does she hear, "Hurry, hurry," and have others running after her, finding her books and wraps, and worrying lest she might be late?

Is Loretta strong and healthy? Has she normal weight? Does she sleep well? Does Loretta smile a great deal and reveal a joyful attitude or does she wear a sober, troubled look? Does she grow very tired and irritable?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. $20.00 Reduction as low as $5 down

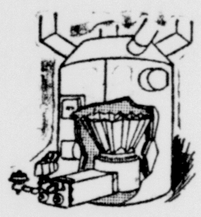
no payment until October
$1 only during cold months
2 years to pay balance
or, 5% off for Cash

IF we can install an Automatic Gas Burner in your home in July



Fits any coal furnace or boiler . . .

This unusual offer of a full $20 reduction in price and extremely liberal payment terms if you let us put in a Conversion Gas Burner during July, frankly are for the purpose of getting prospective users of gas heat to act now!

Last Fall in the rush of heating equipment installations we were forced to disappoint hundreds of our customers because there simply wasn't time to take care of all. We want to be able to serve everyone this season and accordingly we make the $20 price sacrifice so that our installation crew can get a big start on the season's work.

AS LITTLE AS $5 DOWN

Terms never were more liberal. As little as $5 will do for a down payment. You needn't pay anything more until October. During December, January and February payments will be only $1 per month. And you have 24 months to take care of the balance.

But, remember, this offer is good only for orders we receive now with permission to make immediate installation.

GAS HEAT FOR EVERYONE

Every family interested in improving home living conditions wants automatic gas heat. Everyone knows how much more satisfactory it is than old fashioned hand fired methods. Everyone knows how the uniform temperature, that gas heat provides, protects the health of the whole family. And every woman knows that gas heat cuts housework in half and leaves her free of all heating troubles.

Everyone knows all these advantages of gas heat but many are held back from it by a mistaken idea as to its cost and the cost of equipment.

FITS IN ANY FURNACE

With the Conversion Gas Burner you do not need a new furnace or boiler. It slips into any coal furnace or heating boiler without changing your heating system in the least. And particularly for the duration of this offer you can have the change made with hardly any outlay . . . as little as $5 will do.

Gas heat is economical, too. Because of the automatic controls and thermostatic regulators, no fuel ever is wasted. Just enough and only enough is used to keep your home at even temperature.

ASK FOR FREE ESTIMATE

And when you install a gas heating machine under our plan you do not "buy a pig in a poke." Our heating engineers will gladly give you a reliable estimate of the season's fuel cost. You can know in advance of purchase just about what it will cost to heat your home.

Further, your gas heating installation is guaranteed to heat your home to your entire satisfaction.

If you will send in the coupon below or telephone the Gas Office we will arrange to give you a free estimate on heating your home . . . without obligation. It will pay you to act now while you can save $20 and enjoy our liberal July purchase payment terms.

Hoodoo Number Has No Terrors For Fishermen

Local Nimrods Will Start For Wilds Of Canada On Monday, July Thirteenth

ALDERMAN GREEN SENDS GOOD NEWS

The number "13" has no terrors for a party of ten who will leave New Castle on next Monday, July 13, on a fishing trip to Canada. The party will be composed of Sheriff Frank Johnston, Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds, Jacob F. Perleman., Maurice Schoenberger, Attorney Samuel L. Clark, Emanuel Shenkan, Wallace Wysner, William Reynolds, Jr., David Silverman and Abe Levine.

The trip will be made by automobile. Destination will be Mud Lake, where Alderman O. H. P. Green is now spending his vacation with another party. Sheriff Johnston received a letter from Alderman Green this morning in which he stated that the fishing was fairly good. On last Wednesday the alderman caught 15 bass, on Thursday 9, on Friday 12 and Saturday 6. Saturday was observed as a half holiday, which accounts for the drop on that day. Alderman Green and his party will vacate the camp for the new arrivals.

May Establish Training School

New Police And Firemen May Receive Course Of Instruction

Indications are that the city may establish a school of instruction for police and firemen as the result of councilman's statements yesterday during a session at city hall.

The discussion was precipitated by Councilman Genkinger who said that after candidates are elected to police and firemen positions they go on the job virtually without any knowledge of their duties.

Genkinger's declaration was followed by a statement by Councilman William T. Burns who expressed the opinion that the city should have a school of instruction for police and firemen.

Years ago it was suggested by Solicitor White that a school could be started which would be presided over by different lawyers who would tell police the proper proceedure. The school was not started.

Should the school be inaugurated here, the men of both departments could be instructed as to the best and most efficient way of serving the citizens.

It is believed that when council meets in the near future the solons will give the proposal of Mr. Burns serious thought and out of it may come a school where city employes can be instructed.

Italian Cannon Of 1794 Found In Junk Pile

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., July 7—Out of the junk pile into public acclaim. That is the fate of an Italian cannon cast in 1794 which today stands in front of the Venango-Clarian boy scout camp, at Camp Coffman.

Bearing Italian wording the cannon has a five foot barrel and a three and a half inch bore. It has, also, an elaborate coat of arms and inscriptions, only a portion of which is, however, decipherable.

The cannon was put in place in front of the scout camp with all honor, Mayor T. L. Blair officiating at the presentation ceremonies.

It has been uncovered when a carload of scrap was being sorted at a local plant. Where it came from or how it happened to be among the junk nobody knows.

Croton Church Raises Big Fund

Over $1,000 Is Reported From Joash Chests Returned On Sunday

CHURCH SHOWING GREAT PROGRESS

REV. C. S. JOSHUA

With much enthusiasm and pride Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, the popular pastor of the Croton Avenue M. E. church, announces that the amount received in the Joash Chest fund Sunday in the church amounted to $1025, with some of the chests still out. Owing to the week-end holiday a number of the congregation were out of the city and these banks will be brought in next Sunday.

This is an outstanding piece of work for the Croton church to accomplish as the congregation is made up entirely of working people and the donors have sacrificed considerably to reach this amount. Much interest and enthusiasm in the church work of this community has been manifested by the Croton members and the work of the church is being favorably commented upon by all classes over the city.

The congregation has a splendid leader in their pastor, Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, who is a man of wide learning and deep spirituality, who gives himself without reserve to the good of the church and the community. He is intensely interested in the welfare of the church and the people in his charge and not only does he interest himself in his own congregation but he has the welfare of the city at heart. Last winter he served on the mayor's relief committee and the work he did in the interest of the unemployed is well known.

Closing the study the classes will all assemble in the auditorium when they will be addressed by Dr. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church of this city. Crooks is an outstanding student of the Bible and is in demand for various conferences during the summer and Westfield feels itself fortunate to secure him for this date.

Special music will feature the program.

It's A Law Now; You Have To Give Firemen A Chance

Change In Motor Code Prohibits Parking Within 500 Feet Of Apparatus

Automobile operators who get a thrill out of watching firemen work, must be careful, hereafter, where they park in the vicinity of a fire.

One of the amendments to the state Vehicle Code, prohibits parking within 500 feet of where the fire apparatus has stopped in answer to an alarm.

Racing the fire truck is still prohibited. Automobiles must not follow fire apparatus, closer than 500 feet, when the latter are going to a fire.

Enforcement of the state law in this respect will prove of big benefit to the firemen as they have been considerably hampered in the past by motorists parking right at the scene of a fire and interfering with their movements.

Reeves Delaying Recommendation

Second Ward Citizens Wondering About Proposed Fire Apparatus

Property owners of the second ward are beginning to wonder when the city will purchase the proposed new fire-fighting apparatus for which an appropriation of $6,000, was made in the 1931 budget.

Recently bids were opened and referred to Councilman Reeves superintendent of the fire department for a recommendation. Until he makes his recommendation council will not be able to act, it is reported.

GATES AGAIN!

Speaking of gates—we mean, of course, the guard gates that protect the P. & L. E.-Erie railroad crossing at the West Washington street bridge—they certainly get the "breaks". For the second time within a few weeks Erie workmen were completing repairs today to another gate arm, damaged over the week-end by a motorist "who didn't stop."

Anyone know of a remedy—say rubber gates, or something?

Requisition For Davis Is Secured

County Detective Lee Will Bring Man Wanted For Thefts Back To New Castle

Armed with requisition papers which were made out by District Attorney John Powers and Prothonotary R. M. Campbell this morning County Detective Lee will start for Elyria, O., after C. J. Davis, who is wanted here for stealing chickens and automobile license plates from Ralph Davis of North Beaver township.

When Davis was arrested in Elyria upon information furnished by County Detective Lee, he attempted to escape from the officers and was shot and wounded. He has sufficiently recovered, however, that he will be able to make the trip back to New Castle.

The identity of C. J. Davis seems to be in doubt. It is believed that he adopted that name on account of the auto license plates having been issued to Ralph Davis, but the officers feel certain that he is the man wanted.

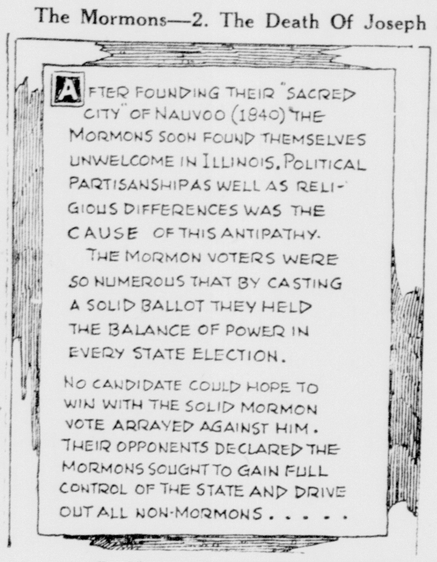
The Mormons—2. The Death Of Joseph Smith



BITTER FEELING FLAMED UP IN ILLINOIS AGAINST THE MORMONS IN 1843, WHEN IT WAS REPORTED THAT SMITH HAD RECEIVED A DIVINE REVELATION RECOMMENDING THAT POLYGAMY BE ESTABLISHED AMONG HIS FOLLOWERS. NOT ALL THE MORMONS ACCEPTED THIS DOCTRINE . . . . . .

IN 1844 SMITH WAS ARRESTED ON THE CHARGE OF LEADING A PROFLIGATE LIFE AND LODGED IN THE JAIL AT CARTHAGE, ILLINOIS, TO AWAIT TRIAL. WHEN A RUMOR WAS CIRCULATED THAT THE CASE AGAINST SMITH WAS TO BE DROPPED AN ANGRY MOB STORMED THE JAIL AND [illegible] THE MORMON PROPHET. . . . . .

THE FOLLOWING YEAR THE MORMONS WERE ORDERED OUT OF ILLINOIS. IN 1846 THEY ABANDONED NAUVOO. MANY MORMONS CROSSED THE MISSISSIPPI, DETERMINED TO PLANT A NEW "SACRED CITY" SOMEWHERE IN THE WEST. . . . . .

Kerr's Team Wins Legion Of Honor Contest

Take Deciding Match On Municipal Course Last Evening By Strong Finish

DR. JAY REED IS LOW FOR EVENING

Youth must be served, and the young World war veterans lined up on Capt. Jesse N. Kerr's team in the Legion of Honor golf match, proved their supremacy by defeating Capt. Walter S. Reynolds' aggregation of Civil war veterans at the Municipal golf course last evening in the deciding match of a three-game series, 11½ to 5½.

Capt. Kerr's aggregation, primed to perfection for the match, proved too strong for the "old vets" and soon wore them down, after which it was easy to put over the knock-out punch.

Then again, a certain amount of strategy entered into the affair. Both sides had been playing on the Castle Hills course but Capt. Kerr's team had done all its practicing on the Municipal course. Naturally they were quite familiar with its intricacies, and once they got Reynolds' team out on the old "poor farm" the rest was easy.

Capt. Reynolds had one consolation in the match, however, as he played a spectacular game last evening to easily down Capt. Kerr of the winning side, taking six out of the nine holes and tying one.

George Watrous Muse came up to the ninth hole one down on his opponent and had a wonderful opportunity to tie up the match, but his ball lipped the cup and he tied the hole, losing to his opponent.

Howard Geary and Leon Drumm played the only tie of the evening, each winning four holes and tying the last.

Howard Sturdy appeared late on the court and had no opponent to play, so he was forced to play a mythical opponent, whom he easily defeated. It was presumed that he imagined he was playing Jesse Gibson for the breakfasts, for he turned in one of the lowest scores of the evening.

Dr. Jay Reed of Capt. Reynolds' team had the low score of the evening, turning in a 46, Preston of Kerr's team being second with a 48.

The players are not satisfied that they have had enough golf for the summer, and further matches are planned for the future. However, both Capt. Kerr and Capt. Reynolds are willing to step down out of their managerial roles, as they have found it a difficult task to assemble 30 players together on one evening keep the score of both sides and iron out all disputes. So, new captains will probably be chosen at a meeting of the officers and entertainment committee on Wednesday evening when the banquet, which will climax the matches, will be arranged.

The lineup and scores follow:

Kerr's Team		Reynolds' Team
R. Reed	1	Long	0

Work has been started at the Municipal course on erecting the fence around the septic tanks on the 15th hole, and within a few days now, one of the most trying hazards on the course will have been eliminated.

More people are playing golf this year than ever before, the records at the Municipal course show, several thousand new golfers having played during the first part of the season. A great many of these are women, too.

The road leading into the Municipal course has been greatly improved, having been widened and scraped, late last week. The entire course is in wonderful shape right now, and some excellent golf is being played.

The Fourth was a great day for golfers, each of the three local courses having been well crowded all day long. The weather was ideal for golfing, too, and those who like it, were able to sate themselves. There were various kinds of tournaments arranged and many took part in the contests.

A half dozen of the leading players of the Municipal course are in Pittsburgh today, where they hope to enter the finals in the pubilc links tournament which is now under way.

Burke Hailed By Golf World

Greenwich, Conn., Golfer Is Successor To Illustrious Bobby Jones

WINS IN EPIC TOURNEY BATTLE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Sports Writer

TOLEDO, O., July 7.—Billy Burke, the courageous ex-caddy of Greenwich, Conn., who won the most dramatic national open golf championship in history after a sensational 72-hole play-off with George Von Elm of Los Angeles, was hailed today as a worthy successor to the illustrious Bobby Jones whose crown he now wears.

Burke's epic victory, the hardest ever earned in a major tournament, demonstrated beyond all doubt that he was the class of the field of 150 entrants who so hopefully started out last Thursday in quest of the glory that goes with the winning of a national open he had to have class to conquer a field that included Von Elm, Leo Diegel, Bill Mehlhorn, Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Whiffy Cox, MacDonald Smith, Mortie Dutra, Al Espinosa, and Johnny Farrell, to say nothing of the foreign stars who fell by the wayside.

Burke rose to the heights when he untimately conquered Von Elm by the slim margin of one stroke yesterday evening in the second 36-hole play over battle-scarred inverness. They had been tied on Saturday evening at the end of the regulation 72-holes of championship play at 29 each, two strokes ahead of Leo Diegel.

They played a 36-hole play-off Sunday and when they holed out at the final green they still were deadlocked at 149. So yesterday they started their second 36-hole play-off and the match had to go to the thirty-six hole before the issue was decided, with Burke turning in a card of 148 and Von Elm 149.

When Burke and Von Elm shook hands on that last green Burke had a grand total of 589 strokes for 144 holes, and Von Elm 590. No two golfers in all history had staged such a close and unrelenting battle.

Burke's game was a trifle more consistent than Von Elm's. The latter was brilliant but erratic at times. Burke recorded only three sixes throughout the entire championship. He played steady and brainy golf and his poise was superb. Von Elm was decidedly more temperamental but that could be well understood, considering the tremendous pressure the two men were under.

Unstinted cred must be accorded Von Elm. He was superb in defeat. He demonstrated he is one of the best "money players" in the game by three sterling performances, namely: first, when he shot a birdie 3 Saturday afternoon to tie Burke at 292; second, when he shot four successive birdies on Sunday to stay in the running in the first 36-hole play-off and third, on the final green Sunday afternoon he shot a birdie to tie Burke with 149 and force the playing of another 36-hole round.

Grove Analyzes Harry Cooper's Swinging, Hitting

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer

NUMBER 39

If you would hit a long, straight tee shot you must start from the beginning of your game to laying into the ball and continually press until you have conquered the knack of hitting and timing well.

Harry Cooper is one professional who swings and hits hard all the time, and he does so with no preliminaries whatsoever. This swing is perfected with constant practice.

Note how Cooper takes the club on the backswing and how well he is balanced before coming down into the ball.

His wole body is braced and balanced against the right leg. The left leg and foot act as only a point of steadiness.

In finishing he hits through and far on out and up, reaching as far as possible above his head. The action of the right and left leg is reversed.

Note how Cooper appears when coming into contact with the ball. The hips are doing the leading while the arms and hands and shoulders are in a position to sweep into the ball. The right arm, at the elbow is close into the side. The left hand is in complete control.

Cooper is actually hitting against the left side. His left hand will come through close to the left leg which will stay braced to take the punch into the tee shot.

If you are to swing long on the backswing finish in the same manner. The long swing means a slow swing, slower than the ordinary swing.

Each time, Von Elm tied Burke with a birdie three on the eighteenth hole, bue yesterday, Burke came from behind after a poor start, and won out by one stroke, 148 to 149. But one hole separated the pair after 144 holes of masterful play.

Announce Umpires For Game Tonight

Gilium, Ross And Castelle To Officiate Universal-Scarazzo Setto

Commissioner Louis "Pick" Glitch of the Lawrence County baseball league stated this morning that three umpires will officiate the Universal Sanitary-Scarazzo baseball game tonight which will be played on the Universal field.

Charles Gilium will be behind home plate, Frank Ross and Dom Castelle will be base umpires. Due to the fact that this is an important setto it was thought best to have three umpires so that there will be no disputes on the part of either team.

Should the Universal Sanitary team win it will capture the first half title while a victory for the Scarazzos will mean a four way tie between the Universals, Scarazzos, Wampum and West Pittsburg. The game starts at 6:30 o'clock.

Max Schmeling Off For Germany

Heavyweight Champ Leaves Early Today For Much Needed Rest At Home

MAY BOX CARNERA ON SEPTEMBER 17

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 7—Accompanied by Max Machon, his faithful trainer, Max Schmeling sailed on the Europa early today for his home in Germany and a well-deserved rest. If an attractive match can be arranged, he will defend his heavyweight title again in September.

The Black Uhlan's next opponent will not necessarily be the logical contender, if ahy, but the man who, in the judgement of Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, figures to draw the biggest gate.

"I think I ought to fight in September instead of laying off for another year" Max said just before boarding the liner. "I'd like to meet the outstanding contender, but I'll fight anybody 'cho' says."

"And you know I'll pick the guy who will draw the most cocoanuts" interruped Jacobs.

"If he gets Primo Carnera in September and the Sharkey-Walker winner next summer, everything will be perfect. We are signed to fight Carnera for the Madison Square Garden Corp. on Sept. 17 at a site yet to be named, but Primo has failed to put up the $25,000 forfeit he was to have posted on April 15, and we don't know where we stand with him."

If a September match is arranged, Schmeling will return to this country about the first week in August, probably nothing will be closed, however, until after the Sharkey-Walker scrap on July 22.

Fistic observers figure Schmeling and Carnera would draw $600,000, in view of the champion's spectacular victory over Stribling last Friday. Jacobs thinks the gate would run close to a million, if the match were staged in Chicago, Philadelphia or Jersey City.

"I personally believe Carnera is the best attraction of all the contenders' said Joe.

The Sharkey bugaboo no longer worries Jacobs, as the result of the 100 per cent improvement in Schmeling. Joe was none too convincing in his praise of Maxie before the Stribling fight, but now he firmly believes that the champion can lick anybody.

Schmeling, sporting a beautiful "shiner" on his left eye, was in high spirits at sailing time early today. He knows that a roval reception awaits him in the homeland. Carefree and happy, as a kid, he is eager to enjoy the fruits of victory a champion in his own right at last.

Cardinals Nose Out Chicago, 6-5

Senators-Philadelphia A's Play 0-0 Tie; Brooklyn Loses To Philly

WHITE SOX STOP RUSH OF BROWNIES

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer
(International News Service)

NEW YORK July 7—Storm clouds in the path of the St. Louis Cardinals started to break up today and it began to look like John McGraw and Wilbert Robinson will change their shirts several times before the Redbirds are headed, if at all.

The Cards soon swing to sportsman's park and as they generally do very well at home, midsummer madness is quite likely to see them still pushing the dust over the in-and-out Giants and Robins.

The National League champions showed some of the fighting spirit that got them that way, when they staged a garrison finish Monday to overcome the collapsible Chicago Cubs in the ninth and win, 6 to 5. The victory gave St. Louis a four-game lead over New York.

When the final inning opened, Adams, the infielder the Cubs got rid of for no good reason, coaxed a walk off Bob Smith, who managed to dispose of the next two batters. Two men out, then, and the Bruins had the old ball game on, 5 to 4. But Collins, Cardinal first baseman doubled to center, scoring the ex-Cub Adams, and Roettger settled the thing then and there by whacking another double to left, scoring Collins.

Jumbo Jim Elliott, a Brooklyn castoff pitcher, humbled his former teammates, Philadelphia setting the Robins on their heels, 5 to 3. Elliott gave his old pals only six hits and homers by Buzz Arlett and Lee helped him on the offensive it was Elliott's eleventh triumph this season and his fourth over Brooklyn.

Joe Cronin was whooping it up on second base in the eighth inning when the Washington-Philadelphia game was called on account of rain with the score 0 to 0, and Hadley and Walberg in a hot hurling setto. The tie left the Senators four and a half games back of the A's.

Hudlin allowed Detroit nine hits but Hogsett and Herring were good for 14 blasts and seven bases on balls as Cleveland slashed the Tigers 13 to 4.

Absence of Donie Bush, White Sox manager banished for three days for a word battle with umpire Moriarty, inspired the Alabasters and they rose right to the tip-top of the old cellar to check the climbing St. Louis Browns, 5 to 3. Frazier fanned nine Brownies and gave only five mits.

Rain postponed other scheduled games.

To Centralize Distribution Of Tioga Field Gas

(International News Service)

WELLSBORO, Pa., July 7.—Centralization of natural gas distribution from the new Tioga field was foreseen here today with the signing of an agreement by the Lycoming Natural Gas Company, subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, and the Penn United Corporation, under which the Lycoming firm will buy all gas produced from wells of the Penn United.

The latter is the leading independent producer in the field and owner of big producing wells, including the Ben Meaker, largest east of the Mississippi.

The Lycoming Corporation has projected a pipeline from the field to Syracuse, N. Y., through which the gas will be distributed. Construction on the line is expected to start within a few weeks.

When Von Elm Sunk Tieing Putt

George Von Elm, self-styled "business man" golfer of Los Angeles, is shown above, with a huge and tense gallery as a frame, sinking the 15-foot putt on the eighteenth hole at Inverness Club, near Toledo, Ohio, which tied him the first time with Billy Burke, pro of Greenwich, Conn., for the coveted National Open Golf Championship title. On the succeeding day Von Elm repeated the sensational climax of the day before when he again tied Burke at the thirty-sixth hole with a birdie three. Burke is shown at left and Von Elm at right in inserts in characteristic poses.

Three County League Games On Wednesday

North Highland And Scarazzos Hope To Retain League Lead

SECOND HALF STARTS FAST

With a feeling of optimism the Lawrence County baseball league teams will continue their drive for the second half title on Wednesday evening. Three contests are scheduled for tomorrow night.

The Scarazzos and North Highland team who got off to a good start by winning a double bill on the Fourth hope to keep the good work up by winning their game Wednesday. The Scarazzos meet a tough opponent in the Universal Sanitary aggregation at Centennial field while Hillsville will appear at the North Highland field.

In the other game Brent meets Wampum at Wampum. The first half race proved one of the fastest in a number of years. For this reason fans anticipate another hot race. The majority of teams have been strengthened in some respect. Some new material has been secured by some teams while others have revised the lineup in the hope that they may hit a winning stride which will eventually capture the second half title.

The second half winners meet the winners of the first half in New Castle's little world series for the title of Lawrence county. Just who the winners of the second half will be is a question at this time of the season.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Profit Taking Features New York Market Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 7.—A wave of selling in the second hour today forced prices of the speculative leaders sharply downward from the slightly higher levels reached at the opening of the market. Final accord on war debts failed to stimulate the American markets as it did the Berlin and Paris Bourses and buying power which forced the favorites a point or two higher in the first period evaporated before the end of the first half hour. Profit taking and professional selling accounted for the weakness in the industrials.

U. S. Steel, which sold near the opening at 104¾, fell off 3 points to 101¾ early in the second hour. J. I. Case fell back 5 points to 83½. Westinghouse opened at 73 and reacted sharply to 69¼ within an hour. In the same period American Tel & Tel moved off from 183½ to 180½; while National Biscuit broke through to a new low at 57½ and New York Central, at the head of the Rails, reacted from 94¼ to 90½. Loews lost 2½ points and twenty or more of the active favorites lost a point or two.

With the "good news out of the way," Wall Street again turned its attention to the nearby prospects of important industries, many of which are striving courageously to lift themselves out of the depression. The bears are taking advantage of the unfavorable second quarter earnings, which are already making their way into print.

The whole list gradually settled down to the lower levels near the noon period, but trading slowed down considerably and the market appeared to be recovering its balance. The outside markets were fairly steady, with Cotton off a few points and Grain fractionally higher. German International 5½ per cent bonds advanced about a point in the listed market. Call money 1½ per cent.

SUSPECT FLEES FROM CITY HALL

Makes Dash For Liberty While Awaiting Action By State Highway Officers

State Highway Police, county authorities, city police and Youngstown authorities have laid a dragnet for William Broderick, 17, of 600 Willis avenue, Youngstown, who made a dash for liberty from the sergeant's office in the local police station at an early hour this morning following his arrest with two others on charges of inter-state larceny.

Broderick was arrested with David Bullam, 17, and a twin brother, Paul Broderick, all of Youngstown at about 2 a. m. today near Bradford airport by Corporal Lynn Lawton of the State Highway patrol for the alleged robbery of a coupe from P. W. Lamb, of Youngstown.

While Lawton took Bullam to the office of Alderman Marshall for a statement of the robbery, William Broderick slipped out from the city hall where he had been told to wait until the officer had returned.

Police Puzzled By Resemblance

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—Pittsburgh police and Schenectady, N. Y., detectives today were puzzled over the similarity in appearance of Edward A. Root, of Youngstown, arrested on a bad check charge, to Leroy Cass, indicated in the collapse of the Service Appliance Company, of Schenectady.

Two Schenectady detectives came here when notified by local police of Root's arrest and his resemblance to Cass, for whose apprehension a $2,500 reward has been offered.

Police said Root possesses the gray-black mustache, hair lip, speech impediment, and false teeth of Cass' description. But, Root's ears lie close to his head while those of Cass, according to the New York detectives, extended outward.

Root was held by local police until the New York operatives can check more deeply into his activities.

It was said that the Schenectady Company failure resulted in a loss of $1,000,000

Blame Flagman And Dispatcher For Train Wreck

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 7.—Failure of a flagman and a dispatcher to "meet the requirements of a known dangerous situation" was blamed today in a report of the bureau of accidents of the Public Service commission for a wreck on June 11 at Mann's Run in which two trainmen were killed and a third seriously injured. The wreck occurred on the Columbia and Port Deposit branch of the Pennsylvania railroad when a freight train left the rails because of a washout under a culvert.

The bureau's investigators found that trainmen on a previous train which crossed the culvert had noticed its unstable condtiion and notified a dispatcher at Wilmington. The report today blamed the flagman of the first train for failing to flag the one which followed. The dispatcher, the report said, should not have allowed a train to enter the the block until a report of actual conditions at the dangerous culvert had been received.

President Hoover At One Time Considered Scaling Down Of All War Debts

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 7—President Hoover at one time had in mind proposing to Europe a general all-around scaling down of both war debts and reparations, as an aid to a depression-weary world, but later abandoned it in favor of the year's moratorium to which the various governments have now agreed.

This was disclosed here today by acting secretary of state Castle in a review of the steps and events leading up to the announcement of the Hoover plan on June 20.

Although Castle did not reveal why Mr. Hoover had abandoned the scaling down process in favor of the later moratorium, the deduction was very plain that if in the end of the year's debt suspension does not work out satisfactorily, further steps will be considered. Those steps evidently concern scaling down.

As long ago as May 11, Castle revealed, President Hoover discussed with secretary of state Stimson the necessity of adopting some measures to deal with the world's economic situation, and that among the steps discussed was a proposal for a general all-around scaling down, based upon capacity of various governments to pay their obligations.

It was recalled, however, that in his announcement, the President declared empathically that he was averse to cancellation.

Guardsmen Pack For Mt. Gretna Military Camp

The contingent of 65 men will leave here for the usual two-week camp on special transportation facilities furnished by the Pennsylvania railroad. The Pennsy will provide two tourist sleepers and two horse cars for the horses of the outfit.

Says Strange Man Pursued Her Boy

In a report to The News this afternoon, Mrs. Felix Delmez of 1708 Neshannock boulevard, declared that she was rather surprised at the way the police investigated a complaint she made this morning.

Her small son had been pursued by a strange man, near her home, and she called police for an investigation. An officer came up, but didn't stop at her home, but questioned the boy briefly, made a little inquiry in the vicinity, and then returned to the police station, she said.

"The officer never came to my house, although I made the complaint and asked for an investigation," she said.

Von Hindenburg Cables Message Of Congratulation

THE CAUSE OF A MUGGY DAY IN SUMMER

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

On a hot summer day, when breathing becomes difficult and almost painful , and perspiration trickles over the surface of the body, we say the air seems heavy. It is because the air is then heavily charged with water vapor. When the air is dry, evaporation proceeds rapidly over the surface of the skin and perspiration, though active, is but little noticed, even on a hot day. As strange as it may seem, humid air is really lighter than dry air, for a cubic foot of water vapor is lighter than a cubic foot of dry air in the ratio of 62 to 100. The air just before a summer thunder shower is excessively laden with water vapor.

Business Women Having Meeting At Richmond, Va.

New Castle Club Sends Several Delegates To B. P. W. National Convention

Monday was the first day of the annual convention of National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs at Richmond, Va., and several New Castle women have left to attend the convention sessions.

The convention will come to a conclusion July 11. Many interesting things have been planned for the affair.

Delegates will adopt cotton costumes during the convention and it has been ruled that on the night of the ball, the high spot in the convention's social features, no one will be admitted to the floor in silk attire — cotton frocks being de rigueur and prizes will be awarded to the most attractive.

This is, first of all, a compliment to the south's leading industry on the part of the committee as well as a matter of comfort.

A new note of interest will be manifest in the convention in the presence of presidents of both the new Canadian and French national federations of B. P. W.

A reception by the governor in the executive mansion was a feature of Monday night; on Wednesday a midnight emblem ceremonial will reverse the hitherto custom of an emblem breakfast. On Thursday night will be the public relations banquet and on Friday night the big ball and an elaborate pageant staged by the Virginia clubs.

The international relations banquet will probably be the most colorful and brilliant event of the week. Miss Dorothy Kenecker and Madame Mary Laudner of Paris, France, will be honor guests. Madame Laudner is well known in New Castle, having spent some six weeks here between the state and national convention, as guest of Dr. Mildred Rogers, North Mercer street.

Thruout the week in addition to the aforesaid functions there will be numerous luncheons and state breakfasts and drives to points of historic interest.

Mrs. Geline Bowman, of Richmond, first national vice president, is general chairman of the convention. She is prominent both in business and social life of Richmond and is a life-long friend of Lady Nancy Astor.
